Iranians Stage Display of Hate Against Britain

Estimated 40,000 Gather To Hear Anti-West Charges

TEHRAN, May 22 (INS).—An estimated 40,000 Iranians in an anti-Western "hate demonstration" tonight heard Iranian leaders accuse the United States of "sticking a dagger into the back of the Iranian people" in the oil dispute with Britain.

References to Russia and Soviet leaders were cheered by the demonstrators who gathered before parliament to support the government's attempt to nationalize the British-controled Anglo-Iranian Oil Company.

Police in riot cars guarded the streets leading to Parliament Square and kept order.

(A Reuters dispatch from Karachi quoted airplane travelers flying over southern Iran as saying they had seen "ten to 15 warships" lying off Shatt Al Arab, opposite Abadan, site of the huge British-controled Anglo-Iranian Oil Company refinery near the head of the Persian Gulf.

REPORT DENIED

(A British Admiralty spokesman in London, however, denied that that many British warships could be in that area, and said warships of any other nationality could not be gathered there unless London was informed.)

Most of the bitter attacks by the Tehran speakers were against Britain, but the United States was included because it has suggested that Iran negotiate amicably with Britain in the dangerous oil nationalization dispute.

Hussein Makki, secretary of the oil nationalization board, attacked the United States and said:

"God has chosen Iran to be his favored instrument to break the chains binding the Moslem countries."

IMMENSE JOB

Makki said Premier Mohammed Mossadegh has taken on an immense job in trying to nationalize the oil fields and eject Britons. The crowd cheered the premier, who has barricaded himself in the parliament building for more than a week because of alleged assassination threats.

Ali Gholi Bayani, a member of the Iran party, told the demonstrators:

"The British policy in Iran for the last 50 years has been one of concentrated satanic wickedness, which America is now trying to support."

May Refer Oil Dispute To Court

LONDON, May 22 (INS)—The British cabinet was reported tonight ready to refer the critical oil dispute with Iran to the International Court at The Hague.

Authoritative informants said during a special cabinet session that Britain might have to fly troops into Iran "very suddenly to save British lives," but not without prior consultation with the United States.

Iran is expected to reject the government's proposal for negotiations in the dispute caused by Iran's determination to expropriate the British-controlled Anglo-Iranian Oil Company. The Middle-Eastern government already has rejected the company's offer to negotiate and has accused the United States of interfering because Washington asked moderation.

Iranian religious leaders called a mass "hate demonstration" against Britain and the United States today in Tehran.

British chiefs of staff attended the London cabinet meeting today, but official sources said this was not in connection with Iran.

Official informants said Britain is well aware that use of armed forces to protect British property in Iran might provoke Russia into acting under a February, 1921, Russian-Iranian treaty.

Korean Peace Hope Seen

Probe Might Bring War, Bradley Tells Congress

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP) — Gen. Omar Bradley warned today the inquiry into Gen. Douglas MacArthur's ouster may incite Russia to war. He also hinted peace may come to Korea if the Allies smash the big current Communist offensive.

He conceded the possibility the war might peter out without a negotiated peace or that the Chinese might agree to peace terms with or without Russia's approval.

General Bradley gave these mixed views to the Senate Armed Services and Foreign Relations committees on the 15th day of hearings into the reasons behind General MacArthur's dismissal.

TELL REDS ALL

General Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, said of the inquiry: "I think it is very harmful to our security and to our country and to our future security to have to pass on to Russia all of our intentions, all of our thoughts, all of our capabilities . . .

"I am sorry we have to do this, but since it is demanded by the people, and is inherent in our form of government, here it is . . ."

General Bradley said the present United Nations objective is not to drive the Chinese and North Korean Red armies "clear out of North Korea" although the long-range political aim still is a free and unified Korea.

Search Plane Safe in North

EDMONTON, May 22 (CP) — An R.C.A.F. spokesman said here late tonight that one of the planes earlier reported missing in the Northwest Territories now has been located.

The spokesman said the plane apparently landed safely at Salmita Mines, about 150 miles northeast of Yellowknife. The pilot, Ernie Boffa, was reported unharmed.

Boffa, flying a Norseman aircraft, had been unheard from since last Sunday when he left Yellowknife to search for another missing craft.

May Queen Crowned

Lovely Victoria May Queen Betty Dolman receives her crown from Mayor Percy George. Imposing ceremony was witnessed last night on steps of the Legislative Buildings in a scene of color and charm. Queen Betty told a crowd of thousands she would conduct herself "in a manner fitting the position you have so kindly bestowed upon me." Coronation was preceded by a parade through the city to the Legislative Buildings. The pretty Queen was accompanied by Princesses Shirley Hallmark and Shirley Bovan.—(Colonist Photo by Jim Ryan)

Dominion Troops "Mad Keen"

Korean Division Ready Soon; Canadians Praised by Cassells

U.S. EIGHTH ARMY, Korea, May 22 (AP).—Major-Gen. A. J. H. Cassells, selected to organize and command the 1st Commonwealth Division in Korea, said tonight it will be ready for combat shortly.

"It won't be tomorrow or next week but it will be as soon as possible," he added. Cassells said the division will be formed just as soon as extra personnel "coming here from the four corners of the world" can reach Korea.

(Canada's Defence Minister Brooke Claxton announced early this month that the Dominion's 7,000-man 25th Brigade Group will become part of the Commonwealth Division and will make up one-third of the fighting force. Troops of the 25th Brigade already have arrived in Korea.)

The general said the increase in troops would not materially increase the size of British forces in Korea. But new troops will be mostly headquarters personnel.

PLEASED

Cassells, after inspecting British units fighting in Korea now, told a press conference he is highly pleased with the troops that are to make up the bulk of his command.

"All the troops and all the officers I saw were in absolutely the finest fettle," he said.

"The Canadians are mad keen to get into action. I couldn't have seen men more obviously on the ball than those I've seen in the last few days."

Three British and Commonwealth brigades are in Korea. More personnel, guns and equipment will be brought to help make up the division, which will be comprised of troops from six nations.

"Those Commonwealth brigades have done very great things here," he said.

ONE UNIT

"I felt very proud everywhere I went."

He said the division is being formed because it was felt it would be better to place all Commonwealth troops in one unit—"and get them all fighting together"—than to have the brigades fighting separately as part of American divisions.

Cassells said there would be Australians, New Zealanders, Indian and British troops, as well as Canadians.

The censors refused to allow mention of the sixth country which will provide men for the new division.

OTTAWA, May 22 (CP).—When the 1st Commonwealth Division takes the field in Korea eight Canadian officers and seven other ranks will be on its headquarters staff.

The army today announced that in addition to supplying Maj.-Gen. A. J. H. Cassells with a chief battle adviser, Canada will provide two majors, three captains and two other officers to be selected from the 25th Brigade, already in Korea. Among them will be a senior Roman Catholic chaplain and a liaison officer.

Canada's staff contingent will be headed by Lt.-Col. E. D. Danby, D.S.O., of New Westminster, B.C., and Vancouver who will be general staff officer, grade one, otherwise known as G1.

First Jet Ace Honored

Family of Capt. James Jabara, aviation history's first jet ace, is shown at home in McKinney, Tex. Capt. Jabara was decorated with the Distinguished Service Cross yesterday. He has bagged six Communist jet planes in the Korean war, the last two Monday under dangerous difficulties—one of his wing tanks failed to drop when he entered combat. In picture are his children Carol Anne, seven months, and James, two, and Mrs. Jabara.—(AP Wirephoto)

Red Units Rammed Out of Key Centre By Allied Tankmen

Guns, Planes Hammer Foe Seeking East Break-Through

TOKYO, May 23 (Wednesday) (AP). — Allied tanks rammed retreating Communists from a strategic city on the Western Korean front late Tuesday while guns and planes pounded a Communist break-through in the east.

An armored column captured Changgong, 25 miles northeast of Seoul in the broad Pukhan River valley. Field dispatches reported battalion-sized Red groups were scattered along the west bank of the stream.

(An I.N.S. report said Republic of Korea forces sent patrols to within five miles of the parallel in the vicinity of Korangpo against light to moderate enemy resistance. Korangpo is 29 miles northwest of Seoul and only a few miles from the arbitrary boundary between North and South Korea.)

Thus United Nations forces hounded the heels of Communists pulling back all along the western and west-central fronts. U.S. Eighth Army officers cautioned against calling it a rout.

WATCHING REDS

Eighth Army kept a wary eye on Reds trying to exploit gains made through a hole in Allied lines between Soksa and Pungnam, 18 air miles inland from Korea's east coast.

Reinforcembents were rushed to plug the hole on the right flank of the U.S. 2nd Division, which shattered the initial phase of the Chinese and Korean Red second spring offensive last week.

The 2nd Division hurled back several Chinese attacks Tuesday. Red losses, already reckoned in the tens of thousands in that sector alone, again were reported heavy.

Eighth Army headquarters estimated between 50,000 and 60,000 Communist casualties were inflicted between May 16, the outset of the second Red offensive, and Tuesday.

REDS REPULSED

Two other attempts by Chinese Communist forces to blast through U.S. 2nd Division positions, about 75 miles northeast of Seoul, were repulsed, B-29 Superforts bombing within 300 yards of American foxhole positions and artillery fire wiped out at least 1,000 attacking Reds.

This was about 17 air miles northwest of the scene of the Reds' end-run attempt near Soksa.

With the failure of these jabs at the 2nd Division, the main body of Chinese broke contact for the time being and pulled out of range of the American artillery.

A.P. correspondent William C. Barnard, however, warned that an estimated 130,000 Communists were being grouped for new strikes along the critical east-central front. They were assembling from Chunchon, 45 miles northeast of Seoul, eastward to Inje, where one week ago the Reds hurled their heaviest concentrated attack of the war.

ALLIES HIT HARD

Along the rest of the front—from the Pukhan Valley northeast of Seoul on west to Munsan, 22 miles northwest of Seoul—the Reds slowly pulled back for the second straight day.

American, British and South Korean troops hammered hard at the retreating Chinese and gained up to 5½ miles.

(Reuters News Agency said Australians also took part in this advance).

By the end of the day, the Reds had yielded bridgeheads across three important rivers—the Hongchon, Pukhan and Imjin.

South Korean units reached the south banks of the Imjin River north of Munsan. They were just five miles south of the 38th parallel.

Censors deleted references to the number of Chinese who made up the penetration and their exact location. An eighth Army spokesman told AP Correspondent Nate Polowetsky the situation "should not be taken too seriously."

The main Chinese threat was farther west where the U.S. 2nd Division has held fast. Maj.-Gen. Clark L. Ruffner, its commander, confidently said his men had stopped the Communists.

Chinese Block Patricias

WEST CENTRAL SECTOR, Korea, May 22 (CP).—The Patricias were bogged down today on the Seoul-Chunchon road by thick mines and obstinate Chinese resistance to the advance by British troops to the east of the Canadians.

The Patricias were operating in the Hills north of Kingong, where the remains of Korean emperors are venerated.

The British troops involved were the Shropshires, part of the British 28th Brigade.

SCREEN RETREAT

(Tokyo dispatches earlier had told of retreating Chinese troops conducting what Allied officers described as a "stubborn delaying action" screening the withdrawal of the bulk of enemy forces north of the Pukhan River. The Hongchon River joins the Pukhan about 2 miles northeast of Seoul.)

Major-Gen. A. J. H. Cassells, who will command the 1st Commonwealth Division when it goes into action shortly, visited the Patricias Monday. He told the Canadian Press:

"They were in excellent spirits despite the rain which was pouring down. I thought them first class."

Kansas Flood Worst

HAYS, Kan., May 22 (INS).—Heavy rains set off the biggest flood in more than 40 years in Northwest Kansas today, forcing thousands from their homes and leaving at least four persons dead.

Two teen-aged sisters were missing and feared drowned after an automobile in which they were occpants was swept off a highway near Ellis by a flash flood which followed a cloudburst. One of two youths in the automobile, Doyle Eaton, 18, of Wakeeney, managed to jump to safety. The body of the other youth, Bernie Gibson, 19, also of Wakeeney, was recovered.

The missing girls were identified as Joan Dunham, 19, and her sister, Trena, 17, both of Wakeeney.

Waters as deep as 15 feet from flooding Big Creek covered 75 blocks in Hays and left nearly half of the town's 8,000 residents homeless. The inundation damage may reach $1,000,000.

Three persons were drowned in Hays—Dr. C. F. Wiyest, 73-year-old retired professor of Fort Hays State College; Mrs. June Herman, 20, and Robert Rippeateau, 14.

St. Laurents Hosts For Housewarming

OTTAWA, May 22 (CP).—A housewarming was held tonight at the new home of Canada's prime ministers at 24 Sussex Street.

Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent and Mrs. St. Laurent ushered about 200 guests into their official home, in their first party since they moved into the $500,000 mansion May 1.

The visitors were members of the Senate, the Commons and the parliamentary press gallery, who for tonight and the next two nights are to take part in the triple-stage housewarming in the big stone house on the east bank of the Ottawa River.

Vote in Solitary

Day-Long Hunger Strike Ended by 11 Prisoners

CANON CITY, Colo., May 22 (INS)—Eleven Colorado penitentiary convicts who staged a hunger strike for 24 hours voted late today to eat supper.

They were served the regular prison meal brought to their solitary confinement cells from the dining room.

The cells are located in the newly-completed cellhouse number one, and have solid steel doors with a small barred window. The convicts voted by calling to each other from the windows.

The eleven were confined in the cell block they call "Little Siberia" following a series of week-end incidents including an escape attempt and the beating of a guard. Warden Roy Best said the prisoners refused food Monday night and early today.

BACKING CHARGES

Best said the group apparently started the hunger strike in an effort "to look like they've been mistreated," and uphold brutality charges made over the week-end.

Earlier today, the warden said: "If you want to know who is brutal, you might take a look at guard Homer in the hospital and see what a beating he took."

Brutality charges were made to district attorney J. Stump Witcher of Canon City, who said he had complaints that tear gas was fired directly at Loveless and that another convict, Andrew Anderson, 41, was given unnecessarily rough treatment when he was found drunk in a tavern a mile from a prison farm.

Best denied all the charges. State institutional director J. Price Briscoe rushed to Canon City to investigate.

Flame Thrower Dissolves Reds

SOMEWHERE IN KOREA, May 22 (Reuters)—United Nations troops are burning up the Communists with a deadly new flame-thrower, perfected only a few days before the Chinese opened their last offensive.

The weapon is believed to be the ground forces' development of the napalm (jellied gasoline) bomb which the air force had used throughout the Korean campaign with so much effect.

In one Korean action American commander gave the order "fire" and ten Chinese advancing toward American defences in the Pukhan Valley disappeared in a searing mass of flames.

The flames roared 200 feet into the air and enveloped 100 square yards. A great cloud of smoke rolled over the area. No sign of the Chinese remained on the devastated patch of ground.

Details of the weapon still are secret.

Destroyer Still Hitting

TOKYO, May 23 (Wednesday) (CP). — The Canadian destroyer Nootka Tuesday continued to shell the Communist supply route south of Songjin, North Korean east-coast port, a naval headquarters communique said today.

"Flagship of Commander A. B. Fraser-Harris, D.S.C., R.C.N., the Canadian destroyer Nootka concentrated gunfire on trains, trucks and bridges south of Songjin," the communique said.

"The Nootka sharpshooters picked off and severely damaged a train moving south through the city, and earlier hit a truck convoy moving toward Songjin."

Prison Threat Postponed For Secretary

WASHINGTON, May 22 (INS).—Chief Justice Vinson today postponed enforcement of a Federal court order that could have sent Commerce Secretary Sawyer and eight other officials to jail Thursday for contempt of court.

Vinson granted a postponement of the civil contempt penalty until the Supreme Court can review Sawyer's challenge of a Federal Appeals Bench finding that he and the other officers defied court orders in the American President Steamship Lines case.

The jail order directed that if the government people had not turned over "effective" ownership of the line to the R. Stanley Dollar interests of San Francisco by 3 p.m. Thursday they were to be locked up until the transfer was effected.

Sawyer, and the other Commerce and Justice Department officials failed to endorse a majority bloc of stock to Dollar last March at the end of a five-year court fight waged by the San Franciscan to regain control of the Pacific steamer service.

German Debts To Be Debated

LONDON, May 22 (AP).—The big Western Powers have set plans for international talks designed to settle Germany's estimated $4,500,000,000 pre-war and post-war debts.

ALL ABOARD

By G. E. Mortimore

Thousands of people are driving their chromium-plated jalopies straight to the graveyard.

"The sum of America's 1950 traffic victims was 30 times greater than the total of our dead, wounded or missing men in Korea."

So says the 1951 book of street and highway traffic accident data published by the Travellers' Insurance Companies. It is charmingly titled "R.I.P." and it carries smart cartoons by Virgil Partch to enliven some of the gloomiest statistics ever gathered between two covers.

The statistics are from the United States, but they should make Canadian flesh creep too.

Accidents resulting in death or injury rose from 1,564,000 in 1949 to 1,799,000 in 1950. Fatal accidents rose from 31,800 to 35,500.

Cold figures show that the main cause of accidents is speed.

* * *

In 1950, 35 per cent of fatal accidents and 37.5 per cent of injury-accidents were collisions between two cars. Car-pedestrian collisions accounted for the next largest group, 26.5 per cent of deaths and 16.6 per cent of injuries.

Exceeding the speed limit led the list of accident causes, where the driver was held to blame. Speed killed 13,300 people, or 49.8 per cent of those who died in accidents. Speed injured 475,000 people, or 39.3 per cent. One of three drivers involved in serious accidents during 1950 was speeding.

"Did not have right of way" is the second largest cause of traffic injuries—321,860, or 26.6 per cent. "On wrong side of road" is the second largest cause of traffic deaths—4,750 or 17.8 per cent.

Of pedestrians held to blame for their own accidents (9,400 of the dead, 299,500 of the injured) the biggest number came to grief through jay-walking. Crossing between intersections accounted for one-third of pedestrian deaths and one-fourth of pedestrian injuries in 1950.

* * *

Drivers under 25 are the worst risks, the record shows. Drivers in that age group make up 20 per cent of all drivers, but they were responsible for more than 27 per cent of fatal accidents and 22 per cent of non-fatal accidents.

However, the experienced driver may be more dangerous than the novice. More than 98 per cent of drivers in fatal accidents and 97 per cent of drivers in non-fatal accidents had been at the wheel a year or more.

What about "those wimmen drivers"? They have quite a clean record. Ninety per cent of drivers in accidents were men.

That figure is not entirely fair, because it does not indicate what proportion of all drivers are men and what proportion are women. But I don't think men drivers outnumber women nine to one.

Weather isn't often to blame. More than 81 per cent of fatal accidents, 78 per cent of non-fatal accidents, happened in clear weather. The next largest group, 14 per cent and 16 per cent, happened in the rain. Only 2.8 per cent and 1.8 per cent happened in fog.

Seventy-five per cent of fatal accidents and nearly 68 per cent of non-fatal accidents happened when the road was perfectly dry. Only 21.4 per cent of fatal accidents happened when the road was wet; 1.5 per cent when the road was snowy; 2 per cent when the road was icy.

* * *

Passenger cars are in far more accidents than commercial vehicles. In 1950 there were four passenger cars for every commercial vehicle—but the average commercial car travelled nearly four times as far as the average pleasure car. You might expect the accident rate to be the same—but it isn't.

There were 32,140 passenger cars in fatal accidents last year—and only 9,320 commercial cars.

"The difference is not the vehicle," the book points out. "It is the driver. The truck driver is a professional. . . . He knows traffic laws and obeys them."

Nearly 90 per cent of cars in fatal accidents and more than 67 per cent of cars in non-fatal accidents were traveling straight at the time. In the next largest fatal-accident group, 4.6 were turning left. Twelve per cent of those in non-fatal accidents, but only 1.1 per cent in fatal accidents, were slowing down.

The biggest proportion of fatal accidents happened on the open highway—35.7 per cent. The biggest proportion of non-fatal accidents happened at street intersections—31.6 per cent.

* * *

Ninety per cent of cars in fatal accidents, 97 per cent of cars in non-fatal accidents, were in "apparently good condition," mechanically. That seems to show the futility of vehicle testing stations as an accident preventative.

Figures show the most dangerous single hour for traffic deaths in 1950 was between 6 and 7 p.m. The worst time for injuries was from 4 to 5 p.m. Fifty-seven per cent of fatal accidents and only 42 per cent of injury accidents occurred in the dark.

"Titoists" Seek Aid In France

VALENCIENNES, France, May 22 (AP)—A "Titoist" party is trying to get started in this coal-mining section of Northern France which produced Communist boss Maurice Thorez.

It is seeking backing from the 5,000,000-odd Frenchmen who vote Communist—especially from those who would fight a Russian invasion of France in the June 17 parliamentary elections.

The French Communist Movement was launched officially May Day. A formal manifesto declared:

"The Communist party, our hope of yesterday, has been delivered unconditionally to Moscow by a despotic bureaucracy. In its eyes the deep interest of the French people comes after the interest of the Soviet Union."

REJECTS SLOGAN

The regular French Communist party already has prepared the way by pushing the slogan: "We will never make war against the Soviet Union."

Edouard Pesin, leader of the F.C.M., is a Communist who rejects that slogan. At 34, he has seen two invasions of France. He maintains that France, if invaded again, must fight back.

He joined the Communist party in 1945 and quit four years later. Why?

"It was that Stockholm peace appeal," he said. "I want disarmament, but I want everybody to disarm. And mostly I don't like the way they deform the truth."

Book Stacks Hoisted Into New Library

First of $40,000 worth of steel book stacks were hoisted into new public library building yesterday morning after arrival here last week from England. Work of setting up new stacks is expected to take about eight weeks—they are last pieces of new equipment to be moved into building. Expert from Virginia and another from Vancouver are in charge of setting up the stacks.—(Colonist Photo)

Coins Kill Mystery Of Missing Bottles

By BARNEY McKINLEY

Bottle, bottle, whose got the bottle is a question finally answered—to the satisfaction of bottling firms to which it was once a costly question.

The bottling firms now have the bottles themselves when they need them, which seems a sensible way to do business.

Back in the raspberry vinegar days things were different. The breweries, dairies and sarsaparilla bottlers were always having trouble about bottles.

People used to hoard them in the basement with the idea of using them for dandelion wine or coal oil containers.

Milk bottles they used for the tame drinks, like loganberry and orange juice.

With all their bottles full of loganberry juice, coal oil and dandelion wine the bottling firms had to buy more if they wanted to keep selling milk, sarsaparilla—or beer.

It's a different picture nowadays, spokesmen for local bottling firms said yesterday.

Breweries, dairies and soft drink companies agreed they had little turnover in bottles with the customer making the return either personally or through a bottle collector when empties started to accumulate in his basement.

Dairies gave credit to the B.C. Milk Board ruling that milk bottles must be paid for when delivered. That meant the milkman had an investment in them and people who hoarded bottles were taking nickels out of his pocket.

If they paid for each bottle they were taking nickels out of their own change purses. So they found something else to contain the tomato juice.

Brewers said the 25-cent return on a dozen empties was sufficient to keep beer bottles rolling back to the plant.

NEW HEADACHE

Soft drink people, while not bothered as much as in the past about bottle returns, had a new headache, however.

They're losing a lot of those handy-dandy cardboard carriers which holds six bottles.

Wonder what they're being used for?

City to Appeal Neglected Child Order

City of Victoria will launch an appeal against an order by Magistrate H. C. Hall in connection with the cost of maintenance and supervision of a neglected child.

The magistrate made the order against the city last Wednesday. City Council decided on the appeal yesterday.

City Solicitor A. J. Patton informed council the order was founded on an interpretation of the Residence and Responsibility Act which, he said, he is advised "runs counter to the long-established practice of the social welfare department and other welfare agencies in B.C."

"In the past, it has always been taken that when a child is apprehended the legal residence of the parent is, from that time, frozen," said Mr. Patton. "In this case, the magistrate held that the residence of the parent and accordingly that of her child had changed to Victoria, notwithstanding that throughout the time during which the parent lived in the city, one of her children had been maintained by the Children's Aid Society as a responsibility of Esquimalt."

He said the point is one of considerable practical importance because the practice which has been disturbed forms the basis for fixing responsibility in many cases.

McCloy Plans Cut Red Trade

FRANKFURT, May 22 (INS)—U.S. High Commissioner John J. McCloy tonight announced plans to limit West German trade with the Russian orbit, but said, "this does not mean we are engaged in economic warfare toward the Soviet Union."

McCloy told a news conference that he has recommended that the U.S. Government "prohibit shipment of critical export goods from the United States to any companies or persons in West Germany engaged in illegal trade with the Soviet orbit."

After Six Months in Korea

Varied Blossoming Moustaches Biggest Change in Pats' Looks

By BILL BOSS

WITH CANADIANS IN KOREA, May 22 (CP).—After six months in Korea, Canadian troops look much the same as when they arrived.

That is, those "originals" who still are with the Second Battalion, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry. The remainder are reinforcement personnel who have reached the unit since.

With berets on, the "veterans" are browner-skinned and generally hardier-looking than they were when they stepped off the Pvt. Joe E. Martinez last December. Perhaps their uniforms are less natty.

STILL TAKE CREASE

Even so, call a parade and the same faded, worn uniforms will still take a knife-edge crease, the webbing can still be washed clean and the hat badges can still sparkle. The Patricias have turned out ceremonial guards just behind Korea's front line that have earned the admiration of British troops.

Remove the berets, and heads which adopted "cue-ball shaves" and crew cuts aboard the Martinez show that they still are in the process of growing in.

A few have acknowledged the approach of summer's warmth and dust by reverting to quarter-inch brush cuts.

MOUSTACHE POPULAR

However, what the Patricias may lack on the head, they more than compensate for on the upper lip. Many of them, most N.C.O.'s and almost every officer have moustaches of varying scope.

So popular has the Canadian fashion become that it has spread to United States Army units working with the Patricias.

Beards so far just haven't appeared among the Canadian troops.

In clothing here there are minor differences. Their boots are an assortment of Canadian, U.S. Army combat type, British and Australian makes. Their socks and shirts are Canadian, American and British. They are beginning to wear British battle-dress trousers with their Canadian tunics, the Canadian type having become scarce.

SIMPLIFIED ENGLISH

Like the Eighth Army of Italy they wear brightly-colored scarves about their necks, and to help them up the mountain faces they have taken to carrying "pogo" sticks.

The simplified English needed for dealing with Koreans about the unit has been reflected in the men's vocabularies among themselves.

Something that once was described as "first-rate" or "swell" now is praised as "number one." Worst classification is "number 10."

Food is called "chop chop" or "chow," while the variety of meanings with which "okay" has been endowed is endless.

Even among themselves Canadians now commonly say "Hava yes" or "Hava no" for "I haven't" or "I have."

Koreans have difficulty saying "have," but manage to get out "hava."

Be Friend of Children Says Father of the Year

Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, retired chairman of the Senate Crime Investigating Committee, was named Tuesday as "Father of the Year" by the National Father's Day Committee. In the following article, Senator Kefauver outlines his ideas on what makes a good father. The Tennessee senator speaks from experience. He is the father of four children — Eleanor, nine; David, five; Diane Carey, three; and Gail Estes, seven months.

By SENATOR ESTES KEFAUVER

NEW YORK, May 22 (INS)—My idea of how to be a good father is to be the friend of your children — a person the youngsters do not hesitate to come to with their problems, and with their small talk.

Often in my crime committee work I heard witnesses blame their crimes and troubles on the fact that when they were children no one cared about them or what they did.

Such disinterest on the part of a parent leaves a terrible void in any child's life. The child must have someone to come to, without fear, and in full trust.

RECEPTIVE

My own system—and I do not presume to say that my system is best for all parents—is simply to try to be the kind of a person children naturally turn to, whatever the circumstances.

I do this in many ways. I have fun with my children and I hope they do with me.

I also regard a child's reading as being very important—reading inside and outside school. All alert youngsters will pick up things to read. This desire to read is fine and should be encouraged, but has to be guided.

Such guidance can, I think, be given without flatly laying down rules. It can be done just by talking it over.

I am, I guess, a "spare the rod" father. I don't believe in punishment if reasoning can do the trick.

NO BOSS

Nor do I believe that any household should have a "boss." Mother and father should get together on anything that concerns the children. I think it's very important that there be no friction in a home.

Above all, I just think that children are people, to be treated as people—and not left out.

Their problems may be little ones to us, but they are big problems to the children and deserve whatever sympathetic treatment and understanding we are able to give them.

Czechs Rap "Hostile" U.S. Actions

PRAGUE, May 22 (AP).—Czecho-Slovakia today protested to the United States embassy that "hostile activities" have been carried on by Americans against the Government. It particularly singled out those responsible for broadcasts of Radio Free Europe.

The strongly-worded protest also dealt with an alleged frontier violation by "six or seven" armed American soldiers.

It said the Czech Government views this "hostile activity . . . very seriously," and that the Government "expects to be informed of the measures the Government of the United States has taken" to remedy the situation.

LINK NOT CLEAR

In London, diplomatic observers said it was not clear whether there was any connection between the protest and the arrest of William N. Oatis, Associated Press correspondent in Prague.

Oatis was arrested in April and charged with activities hostile to Czecho-Slovakia. He has not been brought to trial.

A report from Vienna last Friday said Czecho-Slovakia is prepared to trade Oatis' freedom for curtailment of Radio Free Europe.

The Czech note today said Radio Free Europe is engaged in war-mongering. It said the station's wave-length belongs to "other countries," and that it employs Czech traitors.

The frontier-crossing count, the note said, involved two carloads of U.S. soldiers who crossed from Bavaria May 4 and studied and photographed installations.

Canada Wants Colonial Trade, Officials Hear

OTTAWA, May 22 (CP).—Informed sources said today that Canada has suggested Britain's colonies might earn more dollars if Britain freed them from long-term supply commitments and allowed them to sell more of their goods to Canadian buyers.

The suggestion was made as trade officials from both countries completed the second day of discussions in the fifth session of the Canada-United Kingdom continuing trade committee.

High-ranking officials are exploring means by which trade between the two countries could be increased, thus providing Britain with more dollars with which to buy Canadian goods.

POOL

Dollars earned by Britain's colonies are transferred to a common exchange pool, controlled by Britain.

Canadian officials pointed out, informants said, that Canada would like to buy copra, to make coconut oil, from Australia and the Fiji Islands and peanuts or groundnuts from Nigeria.

These are two relatively unimportant items, yet Canadian imports totalled $13,000,000 last year.

Barred from Commonwealth sources, tied up in long-term contracts to supply Britain, Canada ventured into the higher-priced non-Commonwealth market, purchasing about $5,000,000 worth of copra from the Philippines and about $8,000,000 worth of peanuts from the United States, Mexico and other non-Commonwealth areas.

House Language Colorful During Divorce Debate

OTTAWA, May 22 (CP).—The Commons spent a tempestuous hour tonight discussing divorce bills as Social Credit and C.C.F. members continued to throw the verbal ball around to slow progress of divorce actions they say should be handled by a Federal court. Sixteen of 136 were approved.

Divorce investigators were described as "keyhole peepers," divorce evidence as "offal" offensive to the House and an unsuccessful attempt was made to clear the galleries. Rene Beaudoin (L., Vaudreuil-Soulanges), committee chairman, was asked time and again to rule on points of order.

George Murray (L., Cariboo), interrupted Rev. E. G. Hansell (S.C., McLeod), reading some divorce evidence. He said evidence taken in a committee—closed to the press and public—should not be read in the Commons. The House should not be allowed to "become a common sewer where the offal of the City of Montreal . . ."

At that point Mr. Murray was stopped.

He later moved that the galleries be cleared. The motion was defeated on a voice vote.

Mr. Hansell said he regarded divorce investigators as "keyhole peepers or snoopers" who couldn't get far in any other profession. They usually were muscle men who always managed to "put their foot in the door."

Julian Ferguson (P.C., Simcoe North) said Parliament was making a "farce" of divorces. It was putting up a fine exhibition for the taxpayers who were paying the shot of $2,000 for every 40 minutes members spent in the House. There should be a law for a proper court to deal with the cases from Newfoundland and Quebec—the only provinces without their own divorce courts, he said.

M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, and R. B. Knight (C.C.F., Saskatoon) said much of the evidence in the cases appeared faked with collusion between the applicant for divorce and the co-respondent.

"Is it not time," Mr. Coldwell asked, "that these bills be removed from the House and placed in a court . . . I object being made a party to the passing of bills of this kind."

Language Roundabout Used for Troops' Chat

WITH THE SECOND INFANTRY DIVISION, U.S. ARMY, May 22 (INS).—Probably the strangest conversation ever heard outside the U.N. General Assembly took place recently at a command post on the central Korean front.

Three American, two French and two South Korean soldiers discussed everything from girls to politics—in six different languages.

None of the Americans could speak French or Korean, nor could the French speak English or Korean. The R.O.K. soldiers knew neither English nor French.

One of the American tankers spoke German. One of the Frenchmen spoke German. Another G.I. spoke Spanish. The other Frenchman spoke Spanish. The third American spoke Japanese which was also spoken by one of the R.O.K. soldiers.

"We had a little difficulty at first," one of the G.I.'s confessed. "But after a few minutes we worked out a plan. The Frenchmen would say something to me in German. I would translate it into English for my buddies and they would translate it into Spanish and Japanese."

"It turned out to be quite an interesting conversation," he went on. "I discovered that one of the Frenchmen knew my father-in-law in Heidelberg, Germany."

Oddities

EDMONTON, May 22 (CP).—Magistrate S. G. Main today frowned on Cecil Upright's use of a garden hose to slow down a speeding motorist.

The magistrate fined Frederick Lochlin $20 for assault. Upright testified he sprayed Lochlin's car and the motorist stopped and punched him.

Magistrate Main said Upright should have reported the licence number to police.

Sprint or Marathon?

Cold War Duration Can't Be Guessed, Pearson Declares in Global Survey

OTTAWA, May 22 (CP).—It's still impossible to tell whether the cold war is going to be a sprint or a marathon, External Affairs Minister L. B. Pearson said today.

The Atlantic Pact Allies, he told the Commons External Affairs Committee in a global survey, "can't count on the possible aggressor giving us any time at all" before an attack.

They had laid down a plan to build Europe's strength by a certain date to a point where no potential aggressor could have any illusions that Western Europe would be an easy conquest.

Efforts were being made by the treaty powers to close gaps between what was being done and the target objective. But the military effort had to be reconciled with the need to keep the social and economic fabric of the free world in sound shape.

SATISFIED

He is satisfied, he said, with the way things are going.

A room full of members of all parties bristling with curiosity about world trouble spots threw questions at Mr. Pearson.

He said admission of Turkey and Greece to the 12-country Atlantic Pact is under "very active" consideration; that C.B.C. foreign broadcasts now follow policies laid down by his department and there is evidence they are heard behind the Iron Curtain; that Canada hasn't changed her stand against joining the Pan-American Union, that Canada has no complaints about her share of higher posts in the pact military commands overseas.

Each member country will be represented on Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's staffs broadly according to contribution, but it was conceivable that a Canadian might be commander-in-chief.

Actor Denies Red Sympathy

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP).—Actor Jose Ferrer today confessed himself a "careless" man with his name around Communist-front movements, but denied he was either a Communist or a Communist sympathizer.

The 39-year-old Puerto Rican-born actor told the House of Representatives Un-American Activities Committee that in most cases he became associated with alleged subversive groups "through plain stupid carelessness or misuse of my name."

Explaining how he happened to allow his name to be used as a sponsor of various movements, Ferrer said:

"If I had known it was a Communist activity, I would never have authorized use of my name."

No Impeachment Says Wakefield

WAKEFIELD, N.H., May 22 (INS).—This little community of 1,286, in a special meeting tonight, voted against impeaching President Truman. In a 2½-hour session, residents voted 48 to 17 against the question, "Should Harry F. Truman Be Impeached?"

The argument that swung the vote was:

"If the people of this town vote to impeach the President we would all be classed as being screwballs."

Rumors of Red Peace Feelers Denied; U.N. Sources See Drive Into North

FLUSHING MEADOW, N.Y., May 22 (INS)—Important United Nations sources close to the unified command ignored rumors of Soviet peace feelers today and categorically declared U.N. forces will fight their way back into North Korea.

Spokesman for leading western delegations—including those for the U.S., Britain and France—maintain that there has been no hint by direct or indirect channel from Cominform lands of a desire on the part of the Kremlin to negotiate peace in Korea. They say if the Kremlin did make an approach of that kind, it has not filtered down from higher levels.

Gen. Omar Bradley's disclosure in Senate testimony that the U.S. will submit an armistice proposal to the U.N. for ending Korean fighting is believed at Flushing Meadow to consist basically of the 14-nation statement of aims and principles prepared for publication by President Truman before the dismissal of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

NO NEW ORDERS

On the other hand, the unified command is understood to have issued no new directives to supreme commander Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway limiting him to "victory" on a status quo along the 38th parallel.

Sources in touch with the unified command assert that the 38th parallel will be crossed again if and when the Chinese Communist troops have pulled back into North Korea to lick their wounds.

Although India's Sir Benegal Rau informally proposed to the assembly last week a military standstill along the imaginary dividing line, there was a marked lack of enthusiasm among the delegates. The U.N. position is that if Mao Tse-Tung wants a cease-fire, it is his turn to communicate such a desire through the available channels.

PEIPING SILENT

Assembly president Nasrollah Entezam, who occupied part of the week in Washington with the critical oil problem of Iran, reiterated as chairman of the U.N. "good offices" committee that Peiping has made no move to talk peace.

Neither Soviet delegate Jacob Malik nor Cominform spokesman Julius Katz-Suchy of Poland have budged from their position that they have not lifted a finger in seeking out any western delegate for peace talks on Korea. Katz-Suchy boasted that, on the contrary, the Chinese Communists are merely fighting a tactical see-saw war and have not yet staged an over-all offensive.

In U.N. military opinion, it is too early to assess the relative values of the latest Chinese offensive and the impact its failure and huge casualties will have on the political situation.

Forest Conservation Is Genuine Need

IT will take more than lip-service to the theory of forest conservation to halt the cycle in which Canada is denuding her forests at a rate faster than natural regeneration can replace them. Here in British Columbia the annual saw-log cut for the last ten years has been several times that of natural replacement, even assisted by beginning efforts at reforestation. Nor has the pressure changed. If anything it has increased, under the stimuli of high lumber prices and a hungry export market. An annual cut of between 3,000,000,000 and 4,000,000,000 board feet, against natural replacement at the rate of 2,000,000,000 board feet, if that, can scarcely be described as conservation.

Because Vancouver Island has seen the bulk of the heavy cutting since accessible Lower Mainland timber stands were tapped, the evidence of this serious drain on a prime natural resource has been more concentrated and visible here. Not much merchantable timber remains on the east coast of Vancouver Island south of the Alberni Canal. The more accessible stands on the west coast and in the interior of the Island have been coming increasingly under the saw. Of late, with lumber prices at a peak, every type of tree that can be marketed is being cut. The big trees will not be replaced inside of a century, if ever. Forest management may slow down the waste and make a better showing for the future, but even then decades must pass before there can be much visible change or improvement in the situation.

What is a gain, perhaps, is that this situation is better known today than was the case in earlier times. A "conservation policy" has been ratified by the British Columbia Legislature, which for decades declined to consider any such step. More and more people have come to realize that timber is like stock on the merchant's shelf, his principal means of doing business; and, so far as Vancouver Island is concerned, very nearly its only one. For that reason Forest Conservation Week, while a national observance, will have special meaning here.

Smoke Abatement By-Law Should Be Enforced

RESIDENTS of the northern section of the city who are protesting against the industrial smoke nuisance do not have to go to any trouble to collect evidence in support of their complaints. The evidence is there for everybody to see, in the murky pall that hangs over the city six days a week, and is dispelled only when a strong wind blows.

For full appreciation of the density of the smoke cloud, however, one should view the depressing scene at a distance. From any high point on the outskirts of Victoria on a calm, sunny day the layer of grey-black smoke belched from a score of chimneys appears to press down on the city, and stands out against the clear air of the surrounding districts. It is at its worst in the early mornings when firemen apparently stoke up for the day's operations.

Protests from the northern residential section are directed mainly against ash and soot from the mills, but it is unfair to put all the blame there. Other industrial operations and business premises contribute to the gloom and pollution with greasy black clouds emitted from the smokestacks of improperly fired steam-generating and heating plants.

There is little excuse for this ugly and expensive annoyance, because engineers who have made a special study of smoke abatement all say that smoke is unnecessary; that its appearance from the chimney of a coal or oil burner is evidence of inexperienced or careless firing and wasteful inefficiency in the use of fuel.

Other cities which have tackled the smoke problem have found that with the co-operation of industry smoke can be eliminated. With the relatively small extent of smoke-generating industry in Victoria, ridding this city of much of the nuisance should be feasible, provided the city council attacks the matter with determination. If requests and warnings fail to clear the air, the by-law should be enforced.

A Welcome Reversal of Viewpoint

AN interesting feature of the early recruiting returns for the special brigade being raised for European service was the position of Quebec, which denied the oft-held opinion that the ancient province was backward in providing men for the forces. In total acceptances Quebec was third, and indications were that before the campaign was over she would be high on the list.

Sentiment in Quebec has changed from the isolationist stand held during the war, although in that conflict Quebec serving regiments covered themselves with glory. No group of citizens seems more sincere on defeating the wiles of Communism than those subscribing to the Roman Catholic faith, and this is reflected in the recruiting picture.

The country as a whole probably does not realize that in providing men for the special force now in Korea, Quebec bore her fair share. Geographically Quebec has 29 per cent of the Canadian population; she supplied 30 per cent of the recruits. On a language basis, French-speaking Canadians comprised 28 per cent of the Korean brigade, compared with a percentage of 29 for all of Canada.

There is little here for any complaint that Quebec is not pulling her weight, but rather for gratification that the French-Canadian viewpoint has altered so materially. It is perhaps the nature of the Communist menace that is responsible, but the result can only be to align the people of Quebec squarely alongside their compatriots of other provinces. This is good for Canada.

— A METHYMETER?

Sir,—In your issue of Saturday the 19th you report that the Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce may support the use of the "Drunkometer."

My plea is not to add another ugly word to our language. If we must have a word ending in "meter" to describe this instrument, at least let both halves of the word be derived from Greek.

May I suggest two alternatives; either potometer or methymeter. Potos means a drinking or a drinking bout, while methy means wine or mead. The Greeks were not acquainted with Scotch or Rye. While methymeter has probably the more pleasant sound, perhaps potometer would be more suitable as its very sound almost suggests its meaning even to the modern ear.

OVERSEAS ENLISTMENT

Sir,—A recent morning Vancouver daily published the following headline attributed to a government official of the U.I.C.: "Immigrant Labourers for B.C. jobs."

It is the writer's understanding that the Canadian Government is now recruiting men for active duty anywhere, including the same countries from which these same immigrants are invited. Now it occurs to me that our country is anxious to defend its shores both at home and abroad, the reason for going abroad is to help defend such European countries that may be overrun by the forces of aggression. To take men from these countries would naturally weaken their defence power, not only that but I should imagine that immigrants who are anxious to get out of those countries and stay for the defence of their homeland would hardly be the type to be relied upon in Canada in a time of emergency. I think I would trust our own boys to do that. Past judgment of Canadian officials in their selection of immigrants has led to a few of our atomic secrets landing in other countries.

Here is my suggestion. If we must have an army in Europe, let us enlist these same persons who would want to emigrate to Canada; pay them Canadian army pay, less Abbott taxes; feed and clothe them; equip them and train them with our officers and N.C.O.'s; have them enlist for a two-or-three-year period; educate them in our way of life.

After they had served with good service the required period of enlistment they can be given full Canadian citizenship and allowed to enter Canada as Canadians. This army should be known as the Canadian European Active Force. I think most of us would agree the whole plan would cost the country much less than the way we are going about our present campaign.

PEDESTRIAN LANES

Sir,—It would be very convenient to have a pedestrian lane on Yates Street between Douglas and Blanshard. I wonder if there is any reason why there is not one, as on Fort?

If you happen to be shopping somewhere near the middle of the block and want to go to the other side, it's a long walk to either end of the block.

Up to date I have jay-walked happily with others; but now that there is a fine of $1, or is it $2, it behooves one to keep a wary eye on that bobbie with the whistle. In fact, it's probably better to walk the straight and narrow—but it's a long walk—and a waste of time when you're in a hurry and want to catch your bus.

From "The Lady of the Lake"

Soldier, rest! thy warfare o'er,
Sleep the sleep that knows not breaking;
Dream of battled fields no more,
Days of danger, nights of waking.
In our Isle's enchanted hall,
Hands unseen thy couch are strewing,
Fairy strains of music fall,
Every sense in slumber dewing.
Soldier rest! thy warfare o'er,
Dream of fighting fields no more;
Sleep the sleep that knows not breaking,
Morn of toil, nor night of waking.
No rude sound shall reach thine ear,

Armor's clang, or war-steed champing,
Trump nor pibroch summon here
Mustering clan, or squadron tramping.
Yet the lark's shrill fife may come
At the day-break from the fallow,
And the bittern sound his drum,
Booming from the sedgy shallow.
Ruder sounds shall none be near,
Guards nor warders challenge here,
Here's no war-steed's neigh and champing,
Shouting clans, or equadrons stamping.

Thinking Aloud

". . . of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax—of cabbages and kings."

By TOM TAYLOR

I LEANED lazily on the rake handle and gazed at the tree. Rakes weren't made originally for meditation, and regular readers of this column know that normally I'm a most enthusiastic husbandman, but once in a while it does one good merely to stand and think.

Especially if your back is aching.

A connoisseur, I suppose, would say my trees are simply—well, trees. That's true. They're just the ordinary variety that inhabit Oak Bay—garry oaks. Elsewhere in this city of gardens there are splendiferous trunks with fancier foliage, they tell me, but . . .

I like them; my own I mean.

Mind you, there are times when they annoy me. There are five of them altogether, seven in fact if I double up on one that has a twin and include another whose branches incline lovingly over my fence. And in the fall, for instance, when they go into a combined strip-tease orgy—I go into hysterics.

However, bending is good for one's middle.

* * *

Anyway, there I was leaning on a rake and admiring that masterpiece of Nature—a tree. If I were gifted that way I would sing a paean of praise in its honor, and why not since it enables me to stop swearing at the carrot seeds that have gone to Australia.

Lots of people, in any case, have written odes to trees—Joyce Kilmer (was it?) for one, much to the delight of silver tenors.

As I say, however, a tree is a wonderful thing. Just fancy a town without a tree. Fancy a town without gardens.

What a lovely thought!

Actually I don't think such sacrilege when I'm looking at my garry oaks—just when I'm bent in twain with a hoe in my fists. (What a man has to go through to hold his own in my neighborhood).

No, when I gaze at my gnarled old friends their twisted grace uplifts me. I wouldn't for the world have them disappear. In fact when I go downtown of a morning the sight of so many trees on so many streets is a sheer joy. Is it not?

Imagine passing through miles of pavements with nary a touch of green to be seen!

Maybe that's why, inarticulate but adoring, I like my trees, even if they do emulate the Sons of Freedom.

* * *

Once, you see, in my younger days, I was wont to walk to work through cement canyons. Well, they weren't cement, mostly brick and stone, but the spiritual effect was the same—deadly dull and lifeless. For all of two miles and more on end, if my memory isn't slipping, I would never see a tree.

Tree! I would never see even a bush or a patch of grass, unless they were window-dressing for a department store.

You musn't blame me, then, if I rest from my labors and meditate on my garry oaks. They're so handy.

I mean they're such an antidote to playing tag among peas and peonies. Who invented gardens anyway.

Not that I've anything against gardens. Oh no. Why, there's a chap behind me whose plot is like the one Shakespeare raved about—a veritable Eden. And it fills me with admiration. The thing is, though, that fellows like him make me pull up my socks; or let them down, which is where they usually are when I'm grubbing around the roots of, say, my lilacs.

Ah well. Isn't this the City of Gardens? And haven't I elected to number myself among its gardeners—if you'll pardon the conceit?

So I lean on my rake handle and ponder the mystery of Nature's masterpiece. Only for a minute, unfortunately. I cut the lawn half-an-hour before and the edges are calling.

And, alas, there's no mystery about a pair of clippers.

N.A.T.O.'s State of Armed Preparedness

By H. J. J. SARGINT

North American Newspaper Alliance

LONDON.—The references by General Marshall, speaking before the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committees, to the possibility of an all-out war with the Soviet Union has directed attention again to the work of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and its preparations to meet such a danger.

King George's reference to the North Atlantic Treaty as an association of peace-loving states has also served to remind the world of the immense importance of N.A.T.O.

It may be briefly recalled that the North Atlantic Treaty was signed by the foreign ministers of Belgium, Canada, Denmark, France, Iceland, Italy, Luxembourg, The Netherlands, Norway, Portugal, the United Kingdom and the United States on April 4, 1949. N.A.T.O. is governed in theory by these 12 foreign ministers who meet normally once a year, but the current work is, in fact, in the hands of a body called the Council of Deputies, who meet in London and are a continuing body, more or less permanently in session. These deputies are under the chairmanship of Charles M. Spofford, the United States representative.

* * *

Certain interesting changes in the working of the machine have been made lately. There will henceforward be a joint directing committee representing defence, finance and economics.

There will be a defence production board, dealing with every aspect of the rearmament of the N.A.T.O. signatory states. This board will sit in London and it has already begun its work. A financial and economic board, of equal rank with the defence production board, will look after the expenditure involved in the working of N.A.T.O. This will sit in Paris and will draw on the experience of the Organization of European Economic Co-operation, the operative machine of the Marshall Aid Plan.

This new set-up is largely due to the inspiration of the Canadian Government, which proposed it last Fall, and it was adopted thanks to the good work of Dana Wilgress, the Canadian deputy on the North Atlantic Council.

Figures of the defence forces of some of the European signatories of the treaty have now become available.

France will have on a war footing 35 divisions, of which 28 would be available for the first phase of the battle to defend free Europe in the event of an attack.

If it is borne in mind that on the eve of the declaration of war in 1939, France, before mobilizing her reserves, had only 34 divisions, and that those divisions in terms of effectives and of striking power represented formations much less formidable than those now being set up, it will be seen that the military effort of the French people today exceeds the prewar effort from every point of view.

The Netherlands have definitely given up their traditional policy of neutrality and in 1949 joined the North Atlantic Treaty fully prepared to contribute their share to the defence of Western Europe.

By the end of 1951 The Netherlands will have completed all preparations for the immediate mobilization of three infantry divisions, two of which will be formed by experienced Indonesia veterans. Moreover, territorial battalions are being prepared for home defence.

Altogether, by the end of 1951, some 100,000 troops will be available, and further plans call for a mobilizable army of roughly 250,000 by 1955. In 1954 The Netherlands navy will consist of one aircraft carrier, two cruisers, a dozen destroyers, six escort vessels, four submarines, 50 minesweepers, a number of auxiliary vessels, an air arm of 100 airplanes and a marine corps. The Dutch Air Force will eventually consist of 21 battle squadrons, a transport squadron and some artillery observation and reconnaissance squadrons.

Norway by the end of 1952 will be able to mobilize about 270,000 men in all services, including the home guard. The air force is to have 11 squadrons and a chain of radar stations and airfields will be extended, while the number of anti-aircraft batteries will be doubled compared to 1950. The Norwegian Navy will be concerned mainly with local defence.

* * *

In the view of N.A.T.O., the strategic position of the United Kingdom is governed largely by the dependence of its sea communications and, in particular, the supply lines with the Commonwealth and with the North American continent. These supply lines must not only maintain the flow of munitions, food and fuel to the British Isles but also carry United Kingdom forces and supplies to overseas war theatres as well as exports.

Recent development of air power and long-range missiles greatly increased the United Kingdom's vulnerability to attack from the continent of Europe. The security of the United Kingdom is thus bound up with the security of Western Europe to a degree which would have been unimaginable 50 years ago. The defence effort of the United Kingdom has increased steadily as the international situation has made it necessary. By virtue of the peculiar problems of defence which the United Kingdom has to face, this effort has had to be geographically dispersed.

Thus, more than 12,000 troops are now engaged in Korea and more than 17,000 in Malaya, together with more than 10,000 Gurka troops. Some 11,000 men are garrisoned in Hong Kong, while ships and aircraft of the British Navy have been engaged in maintaining the blockade of the west coast of Korea as well as providing gunfire and air support for United Nations forces ashore.

* * *

The defence forces of the United Kingdom are in process of rapid expansion. The British Army is being built up to the strength of 22 divisions and some 800,000 men will shortly be under arms in all three services at home and abroad. The expansions of the Royal Air Force will make a substantial contribution to the North Atlantic Treaty force. This expansion will take the form of additional fighter and ground-attack squadrons and an appreciable force of Canberra bomber squadrons.

In the case of the Royal Navy, the main preoccupation is to improve its power to deal with the submarine and the mine. The building of frigates, minesweepers and small craft is to be increased and the Fleet Air Arm is to be re-equipped with new types of aircraft. Sixty ships are to be brought forward from reserve for service with the active fleet this year.

The Soviet reaction to the treaty continues, of course, to be one of extreme hostility. Both directly, through the pronouncements of Soviet ministers and the writings in the Soviet press and, indirectly, through the speeches of such friends of Moscow as Maurice Thorez, the French Communist leader, and Togliatti, Cucchi and Magnani of the Italian Communist party, the treaty has been attacked in season and out. And these attacks clearly show the importance which Russia attaches to the measure.

The Packsack

Of GREGORY CLARK

WE have now arrived at the season of year when everybody and his mother-in-law heads for the highways and the summer camps and wayside resorts. The week-end in the country is no longer the privilege of the few and well-to-do. Everybody goes. It has become a universal and exhausting ritual in Canada. Everybody suffers in about equal measure.

But there is one exception. There is one character who suffers out of all proportion. And that if the poor fellow who, on arrival back in the city, after hours of driving in that steaming, chivvying, nerve-racking procession, has to deliver his friends to their homes in various parts of town.

It is bad enough now; but in a few weeks, as the holiday season advances, it becomes tragic. You know what happens. One of your neighbors up at the Lake or up at the Point, telephones. Are you driving up to the cottage this week-end? How about a lift? Before you know it, maybe two or three of your jolly resort friends have clubbed together with you. If you take them up, you have to bring them back.

At all events, when you leave the cottage on the Sunday, even if you brought nobody up, somebody is almost certain to want a lift back to town. Some live in the east end, some in the west. Often an hour is added to the homeward journey by this distribution of passengers to their homes. A newspaper photographer friend of mine, who suffered this injustice for many years past, put an end to it last summer, and is now a happy man again.

"Going," he says, "I have them take taxis out to my house, to be there at a certain exact hour, and I never wait more than ten minutes. Returning, they can either get out at the city limits and take a street car or taxi, or come to my house and call a taxi. I may be in the long-distance haulage business. But I am no longer in the city taxi business."

It is only reasonable.

"No, it wasn't that," explained Malone. "What tickled me was that I had the realization that I was the first Irishman who was ever Prime Minister of England."

Agents Hit For Work On Sunday

Real estate agents who "are chasing the almighty dollar" by opening houses for inspection on Sundays may find themselves without licences, last night's annual meeting of the Real Estate Board of Victoria was told.

L. C. Creery, president of the Vancouver board, congratulated the Victoria board for its stand against Sunday activity.

"All of us feel that Sunday is the Lord's day and that Canadians are God-fearing people," Mr. Creery said.

CONVICTIONS DIFFICULT

He said that there were no teeth in the Lord's Day Act and that it was difficult to convict agents who violated the act.

"And agents who do abide by the act are confronted by other agents who are chasing the almighty dollar on Sundays," he said.

He said that the Real Estate Agents' Licensing Board, of which he is vice-chairman, is considering a suggestion that all agents who show houses on Sundays be reported to the licensing board.

"Then when they come up for renewal of their licences there might be some difficulty in getting them," he said.

He said that the suggestion was still under consideration and was being discussed before the Canadian Association of Real Estate Boards.

Uncle Wiggily Story - -

By Howard Garis

BUNTY'S ADVENTURE

First I want to tell you what happened to Bunty on her way to Hollow Tree School in the squad car of Chief, the kind police-dog. Then I want to tell you how Foxie, Wolfie and Bobbie the bob cat chased the bad foxes out of the woods.

Uncle Wiggily was riding in Chief's car, sitting beside Bunty, I told you yesterday, if you will please remember, how the rabbit gentleman, with Foxie, Wolfie and Bobbie saved Bunty from the bad daddy fox just in time.

"You had a wonderful adventure, Bunty," said Uncle Wiggily. The jolly rabbit gentleman had not stopped twinkling his pink nose since Bunty was rescued. He was so very happy!

"Yes, Bunty, you found a great adventure," said Mr. Longears.

"I wish I had found some pretty May flowers for the Lady Mouse Teacher of Hollow Tree School," said Bunty, sort of unhappy like and wishful. "Miss Mouse would not think so much about me being late for school if I had some flowers to give her."

"Perhaps we may find some blossoms before we get back to your school, Bunty," barked Chief. "I have been in this part of these woods before, and I seem to remember that, not far from where we are now, there used to be flowers. Keep your eyes open, Bunty."

"Ha! Ha! Ha!" laughed the little rabbit girl. "Did you think I was going to sleep, Chief? It isn't bedtime yet."

"No, Bunty," answered the police dog. "I didn't think you were going to sleep. I just wanted you to keep your eyes wide open so you can see the May flowers if any grow around here."

"Oh, Chief, I have been keeping my eyes wide open for flowers a long time," said Bunty. "But I haven't seen any yet. I have seen some lovely ferns, and some of those funny plants we call Jack in the Pulpit but they are not exactly flowers, though they do grow in May.

"No, Bunty," answered Chief, "ferns and Jacks in their Pulpits, though very lovely, are not exactly May flowers. But maybe a little farther along this woodland road we may find some blossoms."

Just then Bunty almost jumped out of her seat in Chief's car as she exclaimed:

"Oh, stop, Chief! Please stop right here!"

"What's the matter?" barked the police dog. "Have you lost another school book, Bunty, like the one you left on the stump? Or did Uncle Wiggily lose a twinkle from his pink nose?"

"I didn't lose any twinkle," said Mr. Longears.

"And I didn't lose any school book, for I had only one and Uncle Wiggily found that," said Bunty. "But the reason I wanted you to stop the car, Chief, was that I now see some May flowers."

"Where?" barked Chief. "Where are the blossoms, Bunty?"

"Right back near that big stump we just passed," answered the orphan rabbit. "If you will back up your car a little, Chief, I will jump out and pick some May flowers for Miss Mouse."

"O.K.," barked Chief. He backed the car to the big stump. He and Uncle Wiggily saw, growing around it, many bright, beautiful May flowers. Bunty hopped out to pick some. She had picked a pretty bouquet of red, pink, blue, yellow and purple May flowers when, all of a sudden, the orphan rabbit shouted,

"Oh, dear! Oh, dear! Let me get back into the car quick! And then drive to Hollow Tree School as fast as you can, Chief!"

"What's the matter? Did a bee sting you, Bunty?" asked Uncle Wiggily as the orphan rabbit hopped back in the car.

"No, Uncle Wiggily," Bunty answered. "It wasn't a bee. It was—it was an adventure! I—I'll tell you about it when we get to school."

Not another word would Bunty say. But when she reached school she told everything. And I will tell it to you in tomorrow's story if the can opener doesn't take the roof off the doll house to make a roller-skating rink for the pussy cat.

Speaker Urges Realtors of Victoria To Strive for Professional Status

Victoria realtors were urged last night to seek professional status, regulating their own affairs through a self-governing body such as the law society or the medical society.

The suggestion came from L. C. Creery, president of the Vancouver Real Estate Board, who addressed the annual meeting of the Victoria Real Estate Board on the recently created Real Estate Licensing Board of British Columbia.

He said 2,600 real estate agents had been sent questionnaires on whether they would like to seek recognition as a profession.

PROPER STATUS

"This is your opportunity to put the real estate usiness on a really proper status," he told the meeting.

He said the national executive of real estate boards was considering adopting the title "certified realtor" to indicate "licensed real estate agents who are members of the Society of Real Estate Agents."

"We aren't going to do this today or tomorrow," he said. But he added that realtors might seek professional status within a year.

He called on realtors to "get the public with you. If its the best thing to do, let's do it."

ACTS REVIEWED

He reviewed steps that led up to legislation that created the licensing board last June.

He told what the board had done to "elevate the real estate business" and to eliminate unethical practices.

He said new teeth had been put into the licensing act by raising from $1,000 to $2,500 the maximum penalty for infractions of the act.

He said this was "not only to encourage the best type of person to enter the real estate business but also to discourage part-time salesmen and opportunists who have preyed on the real estate business in the past."

He said that the licensing board hoped to establish an educational program for real estate salesmen and has asked the University of British Columbia for an extension course on real estate.

Major H. Cuthbert Holmes, thanking the speaker, said the licensing act was "the most important piece of legislation in the board's history."

"It must raise tremendously the status of our business. And it has been in the past a business which some people have not regarded favorably, to say the least.

"Much of the damage done to real estate in the past has been done not by dishonest men, but by men who did not know their jobs," Major Holmes said.

"Examination required under the licensing act will ensure that these men will now not only be honest but must also know their jobs."

The R.F.C. scandal came back into the WASHINGTON news last night when the U.S. Agriculture Department announced it had tracked down the employer whose tip netted an R.F.C. official a quick $36,000 profit.

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation man later was fired. [illegible] for the tipster ever since.

According to R.F.C. Chairman Stuart Symington, the tipster got a television set, luggage and expensive raincoats for his information.

The R.F.C. man, who learned that the Government needed storage space for dried eggs, got a friend to set up a warehouse company and rented space in a Government-owned ordnance plant for $11,500.

Then the R.F.C. man rented the space back to the Government for $215,000. His share of the profit was $36,000, although he put up no money.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 23, 1951

Today's Quotation: "Mankind might be divided between the multitude who hate to be kept waiting because they get bored, and the happy few who rather like it because it gives them time for thought." —Ernest Dimnet.

WEDNESDAY FOR EVERYONE: Preserve the status quo as much as possible. Be guarded against a tendency to upsets, cross-purposes, inharmony or extravagance.

LOOK FOR YOUR BIRTHDATE AND BIRTHSIGN BELOW

March 21 to April 19 (Aries)—Stand aloof from any hostility; perform your duties in an objective, tolerant fashion.

April 20 to May 20 (Taurus)—Keep your wits about you, particularly while you are in transit. Recheck decisions, routes.

May 21 to June 20 (Gemini)—Be meticulous about monetary records, unexpected claims, or tasks which may arise.

June 21 to July 22 (Cancer)—Show steadfastness and self-control, particularly with your spouse. Don't let others create upsets.

July 23 to August 22 (Leo)—Keep your presence of mind in the face of possible difficulties. Boost morale of associates.

August 23 to September 22 (Virgo) — Be level-headed if others get "worked up" today. Guard against rash or expensive action.

September 23 to October 22 (Libra)—Watch out for unexpected outbursts on the home front or elsewhere; rule out upheavals.

October 23 to November 21 (Scorpio)—Take pains to hold to your course; smooth over the bumps; keep things on an amiable basis.

November 22 to December 21 (Sagittarius)—Head off unexpected "fireworks" by keeping feelings under check. Hold on to funds; protect belongings.

December 22 to January 19 (Capricorn) — Safeguard your privileges but don't be fractious or undisciplined. Take care not to go too far.

January 20 to February 18 (Aquarius)—Maintain a sharp lookout on relationships, avoid creating enmity, difficulties.

February 19 to March 20 (Pisces)—Rein in your impulse to be hasty or impulsive; steer away from bypaths which may jeopardize funds.

PLANNING AHEAD — Good for sociability, entertaining, etc.: May 24, 29; June 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 11.

Volunteers Paint Cathedral Fence

Volunteers of the Christ Church Cathedral Men's Club turned to this week on a fence painting job as part of a general polishing up of ground and church interior. Men's Club members turned out for several nights, used about four gallons of green paint, getting most of it on the fence, and were putting finishing touches on the job today. Hard at work last night were E. M. Stevenson, left; Percy Frampton, club secretary; R. B. Shaw, program director, and W. S. Phillips.—(Colonist Photo by Jim Ryan)

Canadian-U.S. Relations Growing More Involved

OTTAWA, May 22 (CP).—Canadian-American relations have become those of two important members of a free-world coalition rather than simply the back-fence relations of two good neighbors, External Affairs Minister Pearson said today.

In cautious phrases, the minister gave the Commons external affairs committee an elaboration of what he meant when he said recently in Toronto that the days of [illegible] and [illegible] political relations between the two countries are finished.

He was asked for the explanation by David Croll (L., Toronto Spadina). The Toronto speech has brought criticisms in Parliament and comment from the U.S.

The minister said that in the prewar years Canada's problems with the U.S. were often of great importance to both countries.

"They were line-fence problems, border problems, smuggling problems, commercial and waterways problems," he said.

Now, in addition, there were the big problems arising from Canada's relations with a U.S. which has become the leader of a free world coalition.

It was no longer a question of whether the U.S. would undertake global obligations, but how she would handle them and whether Washington might involve Canada in war.

Canadian Legion Elects Island Men to Executive

Special to The Daily Colonist

PENTICTON, May 22.—Two Vancouver Island men have been elected to the executive of the Canadian Legion, B.C. Command, at the 20th convention now being held at Penticton.

A. H. "Ralph" Gibson of Bevan was elected first vice-president by acclamation, and J. L. Martin of Saanich, was elected third vice-president.

D. S. McTavish of Salmon Arm defeated Peter Barr of Victoria, for election as president. J. A. Urquhart, Burnaby, was named second vice-president.

BACK RESOLUTION

The convention supported a resolution from Cowichan Legion Branch that the Provincial Government be asked to implement regulations requiring logging companies to keep rivers clear of logs and debris in order to prevent flooding.

The convention also endorsed a Canadian Flag design of a Union Jack in the upper left corner, Fleur de Lis in the lower right corner, and with five blue and five white parallel bars representing ten provinces.

SEEK RECOGNITION

The members deplored what was termed "Americanization" of the Canadian way of life and supported a resolution asking the Federal Government to adopt "a more constructive, critical attitude" in dealing with the U.S.A. The resolution asked that the Government insist due recognition be given Canadian views and policies.

Other resolutions supported included increased immigration from Great Britain and European countries; modernization of divorce laws; placing in homes of material concerning blood donations; and commencement of low rental housing at the earliest possible date.

Fund Set Up For Parcels

TORONTO, May 22 (CP).—The Canadian Overseas Soldiers Fund was set up last night as a Canada-wide organization which aims to send at least one parcel to each of the thousands of Canadian soldiers, sailors and airmen overseas.

It is the outgrowth of a Toronto effort to send parcels to the Princess Patricias in Korea.

Sponsors estimate the cost of a parcel at $6. It would contain three pairs of socks, toothpaste, shaving soap, stationery, combs and personal items.

They said donations can be sent to G. A. Lascelles, City Treasurer, City Hall, Toronto, and marked "Canadian Overseas Soldiers' Fund."

INDIANAPOLIS, May 22 (AP).—The Short Sign Company was long on opossums today, thanks to a mother opossum that gave it short notice. She crawled into the shop and gave birth to six baby opossums.

PIPE Smokers ask for OGDEN'S CUT PLUG

Oh Gee! It's OGILVIE OATS!

When oatmeal looks and tastes as good as that, how could it be anything else but Ogilvie Whole-Grain Oats?

Only the very best of Canada's finest oats are selected by Ogilvie. The tender grains are rolled and toasted to perfection by time-tested Scottish methods.

For more sustaining breakfasts, for crisp cookies, for delicious thrifty meat dishes, buy only quick-cooking Ogilvie Whole-Grain Oats.

Crisp Oatmeal Cookies!

Everyone loves them and they're so easy to make

Cream together ½ cup shortening, 1¼ cups brown sugar; add 1 well-beaten egg; beat till fluffy. Add 1½ cups Ogilvie Rolled Oats; blend well; let stand 5 minutes. Add 1¼ cups sifted Ogilvie All Purpose Flour, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon baking soda, ½ teaspoon ginger, ½ teaspoon cinnamon and ½ teaspoon mace. This batter is stiff. Take out small pieces; roll, press flat with the tines of a fork. Bake in 375°F. oven for 10 minutes. Yield: 100 small cookies.

You'll find the whole family will enjoy Vita-B Cereal for breakfast, too! They will like its rich, nutty flavour — and they need its energy-building Vita-B nourishment. Cooks in 3 minutes.

Econa-Mizer Mechanism Has Only 5 Moving Parts

Sealed in Silent Operation

There are only 5 working parts in the Beatty Econa-Mizer mechanism compared to 7 or 8 in others.

All the moving parts of the Beatty are suspended from a one-piece bed plate to which the motor is attached. Working parts are kept in perfect alignment and continue to work together, smoothly without friction, binding or noise.

Axles and pins are cut from cold drawn steel, centreless ground for accuracy.

Bottom of gear case has one-piece steel oil sump from which oil is fed to bearings by a flood oiling system.

Washing!

Beatty Human Hand Washing Action

FAST – THOROUGH – GENTLE

There are only two ways to wash clothes—carrying them back and forth through the water, as the Beatty does, (or attempting to force water through the clothes, as others do). Beatty clothes action is direct. Big smooth aluminum hands reach up into the clothes and carry them back and forth. Beatty clothes action is vigorous on the surface as well as below. (Water action agitators are languid and sluggish).

The Washer with the Everlasting Finish

The excellence of the Beatty Economy's mechanical features are matched by the finish. All metal parts on the Beatty are bonderized, and enamelled which finish far outlasts the finish of parts on ordinary washers. The most efficient equipment modern engineering ever devised is used in Bonderizing. Briefly this process is as follows—A hot cleaning solution from spray nozzles deluges the parts from all directions. The parts are then put through a rinse followed by flood spraying with Bonderite. Again another rinse, and finally a spray coat of Parcolene.

VACATION GUIDE

Campbell River—The World-Famous Fishing Spot

TALL TIMBER—AND CAMPBELL RIVER

The above photograph shows but one of the many memorable views afforded vacationers . . . in the ever-popular Campbell River area. Tall, strapping timber combines with an abundance of rumbling waters, to produce a rugged example of Mother Nature at her outdoor best!

Salt water, river and lake fishing all in one area at Campbell River . . . make this beautiful spot a fishermen's paradise!

Campbell River has much to offer the tourist, for it is wonderfully situated! Points of interest within easy driving distance include the famous Seymour Narrows through which the Pacific's tides flood and ebb with a tremendous roar and a subsiding calm. In the narrows is treacherous Ripple Rock . . . graveyard of ships. Another interesting spectacle is offered by Elk Falls, Mother Nature's magnificent masterpiece. Here the river spills over a high rugged rock bluff, and falls churning into the deep chasms below.

A short distance up the river at Moose Falls is the mighty John Hart project which dams the river and harnesses water for the development of hydro power. Twenty minutes by car from Campbell River is the British Columbia Forestry Department's Nursery. Here millions of trees are grown and nursed for the department's reforestation program. Campbell River is 169 miles from Victoria by bus or car. Buses leave daily for Campbell River.

Fishing is the most popular attraction at Campbell River with good catches made daily. For the benefit of anglers, here are the fishing tables:

SALMON
- Tyee . . . latter part of July, August and September.
- Cohoe . . . August, September, early October (good runs during June and July).
- Springs . . . April to September (fair in February and March).
- Blueback . . . May, June and July.

TROUT
- Cutthroat . . . March to September.
- Steelhead . . . December, January, February and March.

Hunting is another popular sport at Campbell River. Blue Grouse, Duck and Brant, Blacktail Deer, Cougar and Black Bear being the hunted.

Timid New York Stocks Bow to Sales Pressure

By The Associated Press

A timid stock market backed down yesterday at New York when confronted with only mild selling pressure.

There was a fairly substantial advance shown on the books at noon, but the advantage faded

This is the second straight decline and comes after last week's fall which was the greatest since the week ended July 1, 1950, when the United States intervened in Korea.

At no time was pressure severe, and the fall was widely scattered through motors, rails, steels and oils.

At the most, among leaders the losses generally ended at or near the $2 mark, while the less frequent gains were measured in a few cents and seldom went to as much as a dollar.

In the list of most active issues, nearly two out of three were lower.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks lost 40 cents at $91.90.

The narrowing down in the list of issues traded had a parallel in contraction of volume of 1,440,000 shares as against 1,580,000 shares Monday.

TORONTO IRREGULAR

In Toronto prices were also irregular.

Trading in industrials was dull and gains and losses were about balanced. Papers, liquors, steels and refining oils showed a majority of advances.

Textiles, retail stores and banks were lower and the rest of the board was mixed. Most price changes were small amounts.

Base metals were fairly mixed. Golds barely moved. Senior producers were mixed, while a few secondary golds slipped.

TRADE SLOWER

irregularly on the Montreal Stock Exchange and Curb Market.

Trading slowed to a walk after a moderately active opening.

Industrial gains and losses were about evenly divided near the close, while many leaders held unchanged. Changes were small fractions, with a few issues moving a point or more in either direction.

Mines and Western oils followed a pattern similar to that of the industrial market, following early strength. But changes were mostly pennies and there were no outstanding features.

At Vancouver prices were slightly lower on the stock exchange after dull trading most of the session.

GRAINS FIRM

Coarse grain prices yesterday showed a firm undertone on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, and gains were posted all across the board.

Export loadings of Canadian wheat included 335,000 bushels to the United Kingdom; 83,000 to Belgium, and 26,000 to Switzerland. There also were reports that export business involving more than 1,000,000 bushels of Canadian barley had been worked with European countries.

College Head May Get Post

NEW YORK, May 22 (INS)—Dr. George Keith Funston, 40-year-old president of Trinity College at Hartford, Conn., is to be offered the presidency of The New York Stock Exchange.

The committee seeking a successor to Emil Scram may announce its choice at this week's board of governors' meeting.

Dr. Funston, a native of Waterloo, Ia., has a business as well as educational background. On finishing a graduate course in 1934, he went to the Sylvania Products Co., leaving to serve as a lieutenant-commander in the navy in Washington. He served with the war production board.

He became Trinity president in 1946, and is a director of two leading stock-exchange-listed companies, General Foods and B. F. Goodrich.

NAMED TO BOARD

TORONTO, May 22 (CP)—Senator T. H. Wood of Regina, has been elected to the board of directors of the Calvan Consolidated Oil & Gas Company Ltd., of Calgary.

Make Plans for Oil-Gas Test On Huge Northern B.C. Tract

Plans for testing and developing one of the largest tracts of potential oil and natural gas ever drilled in British Columbia were announced yesterday by spokesmen for the Red Willow Pool in Calgary.

The area involved is 500,000 acres in the Lone Mountain Block; 50 miles south of Dawson Creek and ten miles west of the Alberta border.

NAMED REPRESENTATIVE

George A. Richardson has been appointed to represent the pool and the B.C. Oil & Gas Development Syndicate at negotiations with government oil officials in Victoria.

If negotiations are satisfactory, the syndicate plans to drill a first test well in a $300,000 exploration program within 30 days.

No public participation is being sought, but companies which have contributed cash or acreage or both include: Allenbee, Calvan, C. C. Cross, Freehold, Pacific Petroleums, and several others.

PLAN LEASEHOLDING

If oil or gas is discovered in commercial quantities, a leaseholding of 5,760 acres will be surveyed, the pool and the syndicate being allotted alternating quarter-sections to make a nine square mile checkerboard.

"Substantial discoveries in the Lone Mountain Block could bring the possibility of a northern pipeline into immediate prospect," the report pointed out.

About three trillion cubic feet in gas reserves would have to be established in northern B.C. and Alberta to justify construction of a line to the Pacific Coast. A third of this has already been found close to the northern B.C. border in Alberta.

Sherritt Gordon Mines To Raise $30,000,000

TORONTO, May 22 (CP).—Sherritt Gordon Mines, Ltd., today announced arrangements for raising nearly $30,000,000 for bringing into production its nickel-copper property at Lynn Lake in Northern Manitoba.

The money will be raised as follows: Sale of shares to shareholders, $2,377,772; sale of shares to Newmont Mining Corporation of the United States, $2,000,000; sale of convertible debentures to Newmont, $6,000,000; sale of first mortgage bonds, $19,000,000. Total, $29,377,772.

In addition, the company will have available from its present operations at Sherridon, Man., some $4,000,000 to take care of total requirements of about $33,000,000 for financing, working capital and contingency reserve.

BY-LAW PASSED

The arrangements were outlined today to the company's annual meeting by Eldon L. Brown, president. The meeting passed a by-law authorizing increase of capital shares from 6,000,000 to 12,000,000.

Under the plan, present shareholders may buy one new share at $2 for each five shares now held. Present outstanding shares total 5,944,432 and these rights to shareholders involve another 1,188,886 shares.

Due to United States Securities Exchange Commission regulations, subscriptions cannot be accepted from shareholders resident in the United States, but they may sell their rights to buy on the Canadian market.

Leon Koerner President Of New Firm

VANCOUVER, May 22 (CP).—Leon J. Koerner of Vancouver has been elected president of the Alaska Pine & Cellulose Ltd., it was announced today.

The new company formed recently by merger of the B.C. Pulp & Paper Co. Ltd. and the Alaska Pine Companies has started operations under the new management.

Chairman of the board is Douglas W. Ambridge of Montreal, president of Abitibi Power & Paper Co. Ltd. Walter C. Koerner was elected vice-president.

Alaska Pine & Cellulose Ltd. is owned jointly by Abitibi and the Koerner interests, who formerly owned the Alaska Pine group.

Visiting Banker

GORDON R. BALL

General manager of Bank of Montreal, who will arrive in Victoria tomorrow. He is making extended tour of west, visiting branches and conferring with staff. On Friday evening, Mr. Ball will be present at a dinner to be attended by senior Bank of Montreal staff members in Victoria and branches in neighboring centres. He will leave for Seattle and San Francisco Saturday.

London Market Grows Firmer

LONDON, May 22 (Reuters)—Buyers entering the market on the last day of the account today brought firmness to many sections.

Gains were recorded in industrials, oils and gold shares. British Government stocks were fractionally higher.

Japanese bonds gained up to three points.

Small advances in Shell and Royal Dutch reflected oil market satisfaction with dividends.

Bonus issues from the Selection Trust group helped an already-firm copper market. Selected South African gold shares improved.

Stock closings: Babcock & Wilcox 80s 6d, Boots Pure Drug 56s 9d, Canadian Pacific $53, Central Mining 12¾s, Consolidated Gold Fields 46s 3d, Courtaulds 47s 9d, Hudson

Judy Garland Will Make Picture In London; May Be "Kiss Me, Kate"

HEARD IN HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, May 22 (INS) —Judy Garland will make a picture for Alexander Paal in London. If Paal can get the rights to "Kiss Me, Kate," he will make it in Technicolor with Judy in the Patricia Morison role. Judy will then remain right in London and start the picture in July. But if there is a delay in obtaining the rights she'll come to Hollywood, returning to England later.

Meanwhile, David Shelley, whose mother is Mrs. Marie Shelley de Sylva, has written a musical based on the life of Buddy de Sylva. He hopes to get Judy and Bing Crosby for the leading roles. Whether or not he's able to accomplish this is another matter.

JOHN JR. THRILLED

Young John Barrymore Jr. is thrilled that he is to co-star with his aunt, Ethel Barrymore, in "Cattle Dust," a western in which Ethel, believe it or not, will brand cattle. John Jr. is working hard to finish his current movie, "The Big Night," so that he and his Aunt Ethel will be able to leave for location in Texas in early June.

Their producer, George Templeton, told me today that he is hopeful of getting Joel McCrea for the third starring part.

Ethel said today that she is pleased John Jr. will have the added experience of the stage play, "Hasty Heart," which he is doing in eastern summer stock with her daughter. She said the boy looks very much like his father, her brother John, did at his age.

EXCITED AND HAPPY

Carmen Figueroa flew into town from Mexico City in five hours, just filled with news, excitement and happiness. She's here to attend to some business for her mother, and, of course, to go to a thousand or more parties.

She told me that Mrs. William O'Dwyer, wife of the American ambassador, has taken over Mexico, that they're all crazy about her. She's learned to speak Spanish and she has so much sparkle and such beauty.

She says Hedy Lamarr has been at Acapulco and has been introduced by Ted Stauffer, former orchestra leader. Stauffer, remember, once escorted Rita Hayworth about in Mexico.

Carmen said that A. C. Blumenthal is about to head a new hotel which has the backing of some wealthy Mexicans.

RANDOM SNAPSHOTS

Peeped into Gloria Stewart's room at the Cedars of Lebanon Hospital for a second at her invitation, and she told me Jimmy had telephoned her from Chicago and from Philadelphia. She is getting better every day although she is still allowed to see only her family.

The Gary Cooper settlement will not be made until Gary finishes his picture, "Distant Drums." His attorney, Isadore Frinzmetal, says no plans have been made for the legal separation.

Mrs. Joe E. Brown tells me she now has an Ezio Pinza on her hands. Joe E. sings two or three songs on the stage in "Courtin' Time."

The first affair honoring Perle Mesta when she arrives in Los Angeles June 2 is the cocktail party Verbena Hebbard and Lucille Leimert are giving at the Beverly Hills Hotel.

On Sunday Irene Dunne is giving the "hostess with the mostest" a luncheon, so it looks as if the lady minister to Luxembourg will be busy. I remember the supper party she gave in Chicago when she was attending a political convention. That was before she became such an important political figure. We then called her the Lady from Oklahoma.

With all the companies retrenching, Howard Hughes spent $25,000 to send a junket to San Francisco for the opening of "Hard, Fast and Beautiful," starring Claire Trevor and Sally Forrest. One thing you must say about my friend, when Hughes believes he has a good picture he gets behind it with both cash and enthusiasm.

Ilona Massey, looking for a TV show in New York, has been in Hollywood to form a partnership with Jimmy Geisler (Jerry's brother), to sell her cosmetics.

City Upholding Decision to Increase Building Permit Fees by 25 Per Cent

City Council yesterday refused to reverse its earlier decision to increase building permit fees by 25 per cent.

Victoria Builders' Exchange had written to the city asking reconsideration of the hike.

Said Ald. Percy Scurrah: "I can't see any person refusing to build because of this increase."

It was explained the permit on an $800 home would increase about $5, making the total $25.

Council filed the letter.

GRANT

After considerable debate, council decided to make a $200 grant to go toward entertaining the touring Fulham football team June 7.

The B.C. Football Association suggested the city act as host at a banquet in honor of the team.

The finance committee turned down the request in the first place. Ald Frank Mulliner, a finance committee member, yesterday made the suggestion that the city entertain the players. Ald. Robert MacMillan and Millard Mooney voted against the motion.

REFUSED

Council turned down a Central Saanich request to join the Victoria - Saanich Beaches and Parks Committee. It was explained that the city owns no parks in Central Saanich, but does in Saanich.

APPROVED

A Union Board of Health recommendation that three Johnson Street rooming houses be given 60 days to close was endorsed by council. They are the Modern Rooms, Gordon Rooms and rooms above the Veteran Junk Company—all in the 500 block.

The closing order was requested "for want of cleanliness and other causes."

TOWN PLANNING

A. J. Patton, city solicitor, will draw up the legal requirements allowing a school board member to sit as an ex-officio member of the Town Planning Commission.

Fulla Sparks Sons To Tip Combines And Leave Cellar

New Westminster	3	4	0	81	87	6
North Shore	1	3	0	43	54	2

Next game, tomorrow: North Shore at New Westminster.

VANCOUVER, May 22 (C.)—Goalie Fred Fulla personally piloted Nanaimo Native Sons to the most stunning upset of the young Inter-City Lacrosse League season tonight at Kerrisdale Arena.

The chubby netminder completely mesmerized Vancouver Combines, as Sons moved out of the basement with an 11-9 victory over the league leaders.

Fulla was tremendous in stemming Combines' continual attack. He stopped 39 of 48 shots, as Vancouver rained shot after shot on the durable senior "B" graduate.

It was Nanaimo's second straight triumph following four consecutive defeats. They stopped North Shore Indians 14-10 at Nanaimo for their initial victory.

Native Sons unexpected win relegated Indians to fifth place, and yanked Nanaimo into a third spot deadlock with New Westminster Commandos.

Although notably off-edge following their strenuous 12-11 win over Victoria Shamrocks Monday, Combines nevertheless unloaded enough shots to win most games.

Former Indian rookie Gordy Nickle—who tallied three goals—gave Nanaimo a 1-0 lead after only 30 seconds of play and Spud Morelli upped the margin to 2-0 midway in the session.

However, Vancouver, perhaps a mite over-confident, crashed back to square the score 2-2 by quarter time on goals by Ernie Smith and Jim Anderson.

LEAD AT HALF

Nanaimo, whose checking has improved immensely over previous city visits, forged a 6-3 half-time lead and nabbed the odd goal in five in the third quarter to cart a 9-5 margin into the final period.

Archie Johnstone fired what proved to be the winner at 5:59, as Vancouver punched in three unanswered goals, two by Anderson and one by Rene Leatherbarrow, to cut the deficit to 10-8 with four minutes left.

Reg Dorman fooled Combine goalie Walt Lee from close in at 13:21 on a clever play engineered by Jack Scott and Doug White. Smith retaliated for Combines at 14:56.

All-Star Club Downs Sailors

The Victoria all-star football club, which will play Fulham here June 7, scored a convincing 5-1 victory over a Navy team at Macdonald Park last night.

All the all-star scoring took place in the first half. Ab. Travis scored a hat-trick and Wallace Milligan picked up the other two goals. Navy's lone tally came in the second half.

The all-stars, under manager Tommy Restell, made many changes during the match, giving all their players an opportunity to perform.

School Tops Tars

Normal School lashed out five home runs yesterday to defeat H.M.C.S. Athabaskan, 16-9, in an exhibition men's softball game at Colville Road.

Tony Brummett with three, Reg Lott and Len Fowles all hit circuit blows for the winners. Burke also collected a four-bagger for the sailors.

IT BEATS ME

By Jim Tang

Dear Marvin:

Should have written this a week ago, but then I guess it's just as well that it was left. At that time was all set for some sort of a literary masterpiece. The A's were rolling, the Shamrocks were winning, and you were in for it. Got so enthusiastic that decided I must see some of this myself. Went over to Vancouver with the lacrosse club. The 'Rocks promptly lost their first game of the season. But the A's had won five of seven on the road, and wanted to be on hand to see them bring those Capilanos back a bit.

Well, to cut a long and sad story short, got sort of dizzy watching those Caps run around the bases. They scored 50 runs in the last three games, and I sat in the middle of those Vancouver sportswriters bravely trying to smile it off as one of those things. Must have done pretty good, too, or maybe it was because they didn't have the heart, knowing how seriously I take those things.

Was sure glad to get out of that town. But the trip wasn't without its compensations. One of the Vancouver writers, probably wanting to make it easier for me, let me in on a "hot" story. He told me the A's didn't have much money (common knowledge since mid-season 1950), and that they were going to sell Lilio Marcucci to the Caps because (1) they couldn't meet his salary, and (2) to get some money to pay some of the other guys who haven't been doing so well. Now, there's what we call a scoop in this newspaper business. No one would have believed the A's would dare sell their best ball player, the way things are going. No one believes it yet. They don't. I think.

Anyway, got home today and started to perk up when the A's scored five runs against Tacoma in the first two innings and held the Tigers scoreless for seven innings. Was beginning to believe all over again all those nice things I had been thinking—and sometimes saying—about them. Now I feel worse than ever. They blew it in the last two innings, are getting terribly close to that basement again, and I'm going to go into hiding once more.

That's what so tough about this business. It's the mental anguish you have to go through all the time. It's just fine for you to sit back there and insult me and say that it is a sort of heaven on earth, but you haven't suffered like I have these past seven or eight years. Don't know whether I suffer because I hate being so wrong so often or just because Victoria teams don't win too often. All I know is that I suffer. Believe it might be better if the social editor and I changed jobs. Then we could all view everything with a complete detachment. Those weddings and pink teas would be a lot easier to take than wind-blown pop flys that cost ball games and those maddening umpires.

Not can I tell you what is wrong with those A's. Have given the matter some weighty thought and still can't lose the idea they are a pretty good ball club. There is something wrong and it must be those record books I'm looking at all the time. Every time I go back a couple of seasons, the A's start to look good. I go out to the park armed with the knowledge that we have wonderful pitching and long-ball hitting, come back with the proof that you can't strike anyone out or hit one over the fence with the Official Baseball Guide. It's very disappointing.

Just the same it could be worse. I might be Reg Patterson or even Dick Barrett. Ol' Kewpie is having a tough start as a manager. He is very popular with his players and they do everything for him except win. He has a sunny disposition and seems to be standing up under it better than I can, but am starting to worry a bit about Reg. He is unhappy, his directors are unhappy, the treasurer isn't feeling so well, the fans are waiting, and the Shamrocks are filling Memorial Arena. He doesn't seem to be losing much weight but there are definite signs that the strain is starting to tell. If this keeps up, he's liable to do something foolish like buying an interest in an auto court or something. Guess I shouldn't feel too sorry for myself. Things could be worse.

GUESSING DEPARTMENT: It's daring, I know, but the A's to win tonight. Batting average to date: At bat 208, hits 147, percentage .707.

High School Track Meet Sees Records Fall

Many records are being cracked during this year's Inter-High School sports meet. Here, Ted Whan of Victoria High School sets new hop-step and jump standard with leap of 41' 10¾". Old mark of 39' 7" was set last year by Garry Pynn, who pulled a muscle on his first jump yesterday and was forced to leave meet.

Close competition was given Marjorie Durnin in senior girls' high jump yesterday. Here, Irene Young of Oak Bay displays excellent form as she clears bar at 4' 4". Miss Burnin won event with leap of 4' 5½". Miss Young and Chris Boyd of Victoria High tied for second place.—(Colonist Photos by Jim Ryan)

Victoria High Extends Lead in School Sports

Victoria High extended its lead to 33 points after the second day of the annual Victoria senior inter-high school sports meet yesterday.

Victoria High has gathered a total of 67½ points compared with 34½ for Oak Bay High. Mount View is in the third slot with a total of 17 points.

Ted Whan of Victoria High set a new hop-step-and-jump standard as he leaped 41' 10¾", Nelson Crisp and Johnny Johnson, both of Oak Bay, placed second and third, respectively. Although winning the event, Victoria High lost the services of defending champion Gary Pynn, who pulled a muscle on his first jump and was forced to leave the meet.

FRANK LEWIS WINS

In the senior boys' high jump, Frank Lewis of Oak Bay emerged victorious with a jump of 5'6". Laurence Davies of Mount Douglas and Nelson Crisp of Oak Bay finished second and third, respectively.

Marj Durnin captured the senior girls' high jump with a leap of 4'5½". Chris Boyd of Victoria High and Irene Young of Oak Bay tied for second place in the closely fought event.

In the junior boys' broad jump, John Whan, Victoria High, captured first place with a jump of 17'11". Jim Ord of Esquimalt and Ted Johnson of Mount Douglas finished second and third, respectively.

In the junior girls' broad jump, Virginia Barrie of Victoria High carried off top honors with a jump of 15'7". Pat Arwich of Mount Douglas finished second while Pat Wright of Victoria High took third slot.

Ken Barnes of Oak Bay carried off the laurels in the boys' open discus throw as he hurled the plate a distance of 97'11". Ted Tucker of Victoria High and Barry Jackson of Esquimalt finished second and third, respectively.

Cycle Racers Ride Tonight In Four Events

The Victoria Cycling Club will stage four bicycle races at Beacon Hill Park tonight at 7.

These events, sponsored by the Greater Victoria Celebrations Association and Brock Whitney, are expected to draw a large entry from the Vancouver and Burnaby clubs.

Competing in the 15-mile senior event for the Whitney Trophy will be Jack Scrambler, 1950 winner, Tom Howe, veteran pre-war rider, Russ McLean, Glen Ewart and several others from the Mainland. Victoria riders in the 15-mile race will be Norman Ord, Alf Matthews, Alan Jones, Bill Dingley, Malcolm Graham, Bill Moffat, Ken Cross and Roland Chalmers.

There will also be a five-mile class "B" race for riders who have not won an open event, and a junior two-mile race. Victoria will be represented in the girls' three-mile race by Nancy Beecher, Verna Hearne and Jessie Jones.

Women Bowlers Close Season, Present Trophies

The City Women's Tenpin Bowling League wound up its 1950-51 season with its annual banquet and prize presentation at Lougheed's Banquet Hall last night.

Besides the usual team prizes, several city tournament awards were also presented. Vivian McLeary was awarded the all-events prize. She beat out Mamie Worth by one point. The singles award went to Jane Munn and the doubles to Ev Angus and Ruth Mercer.

As this was the final year of operations in the Arcade Alleys, the league presented owners Charles Chislett and Bill Templeton with presents as a token of appreciation.

Speaking Briefly

Vic Towsel will defend his world bantamweight title against Luis Romero of Spain at Johannesburg, October 6.

Victoria Plays Afternoon Tilt On Trial Basis

In response to a number of requests from fans, Victoria Athletics will give Wednesday afternoon games a trial this afternoon when they meet Tacoma Tigers in the second game of the four-game W.I.L. series. Game time is 2.30 p.m. at Royal Athletic Park.

Business manager Reg Patterson stated yesterday that attendance this afternoon would determine if there will be any more afternoon games on Wednesday.

Fans who like their baseball under the sun will have the added attraction of watching John Marshall in action. The big righthander claims he is now ready for his best pitching, and he particularly wants to start proving it against the Tigers. Marshall has a feud of long standing with dour Jim Brillheart, Tacoma manager, and will be trying just a bit harder.

Cougar Player To Hurl Tonight

Breaks Fail Smith In Final Innings As Tigers Edge A's

HOW THEY STAND

Spokane	23	11	.676	2½
Salem	15	14	.517	7

Tacoma	15	17	.433	9½
Yakima	13	17	.414	10
VICTORIA	12	18	.400	10½

Practically blasted out of Vancouver, Victoria's shell-shocked Athletics stumbled in the late innings at Royal Athletic Park last night and went down to their sixth straight defeat and seventh spot in the W.I.L. standings.

Ahead, 5-0, going into the eighth inning and only one strike away from a 5-4 triumph in the ninth, the A's wound up on the short end of a 6-5 count. Tacoma Tigers were the winners and climbed into fifth place.

NOTHING RIGHT

Nothing went right for the A's. The double which started the winning rally was just a few inches too high to be caught. The hit which drove in the tying run was a wind-blown blooper that should have been the third out. The stolen base which put the winning run in position to score was an extremely-close decision. The hit which plated that run might have been fielded by Pitcher Ron Smith. A great catch by Sol Israel prevented the tying run in the Victoria ninth. But in the final analysis, the big factor was Manager Dick Barrett's reluctance to replace Smith.

Working behind a 5-0 lead secured in the first two innings, Smith ran into his first trouble in the eighth. Barrett stayed with him as the Tigers followed a lead-off base on balls to Isreal with five singles to make it 5-4. Smith whiffed the first two hitters in the ninth, had two strikes on Mike Catron when the Tacoma infielder rapped a double off the boards in centre.

CARRIED BY WIND

Butch Moran lofted a blooper to short left but it eluded Bill Dunn's glove as the stiff cross-wind carried it away and Catron scored the tying run. Moran was called safe at second on a steal and plated the winner when Harry Scherting grounded a hit right through the box.

On the other hand, Tacoma-manager Jim Brillheart used up three starters to get the win. Mel [illegible]ovich was replaced at the start of the second after giving up four runs in the first. Jerry Barta was effective in a six-inning relief stint and Gary Clark came on in the eighth to get credit.

The A's started off as if they meant business. Lilio Marcucci doubled home both runners after Dunn walked and Gene Thompson singled and scored ahead of Bill White when the big outfielder hit an inside-the-park home run. It was a short liner to left field which rolled to the wall after Johnny Kovenz failed to make a shoestring catch and gave White the league lead with six circuit smashes.

After scoring their fifth run off Barta in the second, the A's managed only three hits in the last seven innings and banged into three double plays. They threatened in the fifth when Marv Diercks led off with a walk and Marcucci followed with his second single, but Hal Jackson, Bill White and Milt Martin struck out.

In the ninth, Thompson led off with the blow that gave Israel some of the glory. He made a leaping catch to prevent a double which would have put Thompson in position to score on Dierck's following single. Marcuci bounced into a game-ending double play but he had done his part earlier by batting in three runs with his first two hits and setting up a promising inning with his third.

Merv Dubbers and Manager Jim Brillheart of Tacoma were thrown out of the game in the eighth for protesting a called third strike on Dubbers.

Meanwhile, Vancouver and Spokane pulled farther away from the rest of the league. The Capilanos made it seven in a row by trimming Yakima, 7-3. The Indians kept pace by outslugging Tri-City, 12-9.

In the other game, Will Hafey parked a two-run homer over the wall in the fourth inning to break a 2-2 tie and give Wenatchee Chiefs a 4-2 victory over Salem.

Loggers Remain Winless; Game With Cabbies Tied

Next game, Friday: Butler's Aces vs. Chinese Students, Upper Central, 6.30 p.m.

B.C. Forest Products failed last night in their seventh attempt to garner a victory in the Senior "A" Men's Softball League—but they came close.

The luckless loggers scored three runs in the bottom of the ninth inning to eke out a 10-10 tie with Bluebird Cabs at Upper Central. The tie moved the Cabbies into a third-place deadlock with Chinese Students.

The loggers showed more power at the plate and received steady hurling from Bud Ross, but were lax in their fielding. They committed seven miscues.

SCORE FOUR

Things looked black for Forest Products when Cabbies scored four runs in the first inning and added another in the second. Loggers kept whittling at the lead and drove Alf Aspinall from the mound with a four-run rally in the third.

Three walks, two singles and an error gave the loggers the three runs in the final frame. Vern Evans grabbed Mickey Smith's liner with the winning runs on base to end the inning. Evans replaced Tim Walker in right field when the latter was hurt chasing a pop fly in the fifth.

The game was called at the end of regulation time because of darkness.

The fielding gem of the game was by Jim Ireland of Forest Products who made a back-handed spear of Charlie Sansbury's hard drive in the eighth inning.

New York Yankees defeated St. Louis Browns 6-1 yesterday for their 13th home victory in 14 starts, but Chicago White Sox stole the major league spotlight by edging Washington Senators 9-8 for their sixth straight triumph. The win kept the Chisox two games behind the American League leading Yankees.

The Senators mauled Saul Rogovin for six runs in a wild fifth inning to grab a 6-3 lead, but Chicago bounced back with two runs off Joe Haynes in the sixth and added three in the seventh when Nelson Fox hit a two-run homer. Then they clung to the lead.

Washington lost starting pitcher Bob Kuzava for at least a week when he collided with Fox at first base in the fourth inning. He was spiked on the right heel and required three stitches.

EXTRA BASES

The Yankees backed Allie Reynolds' four-hit pitching with an extra-base barrage against Ned Garver, the Browns' ace. Six of the Yankee hits were for extra bases with Joe Collins blasting a triple and double, Bobby Brown contributing a triple and two singles and Yogi Berra clouting his fifth home run.

Catcher Les Moss, acquired by Boston Red Sox a week ago, broke the spell southpaw Ted Gray has cast over his team with a grand-slam homer in the seventh that gave the Sox a 6-3 triumph over Detroit Tigers. Gray set the stage for his first defeat in Boston since August 5, 1949 by walking two batters and then seeing the bases filled by an error.

BOMBARDMENT

Cleveland bombarded three Philadelphia pitchers for 14 hits, including Bobby Avila's first home run, for a 6-2 triumph over the A's.

In the rain-abbreviated National League schedule, Brooklyn Dodgers lambasted Pittsburgh 17-9 to stretch their lead to a game and a half. The clubs poled a combined total of seven homers with Gil Hodges of the Dodgers hitting two, including a grand-slam blow, to boost his league-leading total to 13. Wally Westlake of the Pirates smacked his 12th.

Boston Braves regained third place by whipping St. Louis Cardinals 7-2, after rain had delayed the start for almost an hour.

NEW YORK, May 22 (INS) — Ed Lopat, the Yankee veteran left-hander who has already hung up seven straight victories with one more, calls the Indians his cousins.

And as you know, a cousin in baseball parlance is a sort of...

Ed figures if he had only Cleveland to pitch against he might be a cinch to make the hall of fame. But he insists there is no mystery about his dominance over the Indians and adds:

"At first I got a few good breaks in beating them. Then they probably began to worry and think they couldn't beat me and began pressing too hard. Meanwhile, the [illegible] of course I was [illegible]

Emergency Never Idle

By LAWRIE JOSLIN

Saturday night is the busiest night of the week for the staff on duty in the emergency ward at Royal Jubilee Hospital.

It is not unusual for an ambulance to screech to a stop in front of the doors of the emergency at least once every 15 minutes on a Saturday night. Sometimes they come more often than that.

Saturday nights bring an unbelievable variety of accident victims, some with severe injuries and others with perhaps only minor cuts and bruises.

Saturday night hectics often have an aftermath in "emergency" at Royal Jubilee.

ONE YEAR—7,000 CASES

Drunks, who have found their celebrations too much for them, may be treated in "emergency."

Last Saturday night, 32 patients were treated in the emergency department at Royal Jubilee.

During the past year more than 7,000 persons received attention in some form in the hospital's emergency department. Accidents, particularly automobile accidents, resulting in injuries appear to be increasing yearly.

George I. Masters, administrator of Royal Jubilee and secretary to the hospital board of directors, states that it costs the hospital $6,000 a year to provide this emergency service. The hospital does not receive direct grants for emergency treatment from the provincial government. Where a patient comes to the hospital for treatment of a minor injury.

COSTS PYRAMID

Costs pyramid at a fast pace when it costs the hospital $2 to make each stitch necessary to close a wound and from $7 to $10 to take an X-ray necessitated by every major injury.

From the standpoint of the efficient businessman the emergency service is a losing proposition, but Mr. Masters says the service is maintained entirely for the use and benefit of the community.

We try to keep people in the ward who are competent and efficient and can do a good job in the shortest possible time," he states.

The emergency department has two treatment rooms and a ward of four beds which are kept ready at all times for accident victims. Under an improvement program now under way at the hospital, these beds are being moved into newly activated rooms immediately adjacent to the treatment rooms in order to provide more efficient service.

As in the operating rooms, widespread use is made of soft green colors on the walls and steady.

Killen, West Top Section In Pro Tourney

SPOKANE, May 22 (CP)—Harold West of Portland and Dave Killen of Olympia swung hot clubs yesterday and earned the right to represent the Northwest in the Professional Golfers' Association national tourney at Pittsburgh.

Killen turned in the top total score in the P.G.A. sectional qualifying tournament here, posting a four-under-par in the morning round and following it with the afternoon stint for 140. West carded 66 and 75 for a total of 141 on the 36-hole run.

The top two finishers were to get the Northwest's spots in the national event, June 23 through July 3. But according to reports after the matches, West will not go to Pittsburgh. In that event, Chuck Dillon of Tacoma, who got 74 and 73 for a 147 aggregate and third place, will replace him.

Wheat Motion Defeated

OTTAWA, May 22 (CP).—The Commons tonight defeated by a vote of 117 to 33 a C.C.F. motion aimed at guaranteeing Canadian wheat farmers a payment totaling not less than $2 a bushel for the 1950-51 wheat crop.

The Progressive Conservatives, C.C.F. and Social Crediters voted for the motion against the Government. Percy Black (P.C., Cumberland), was the lone Opposition member voting with the Liberals.

The motion, moved by Hazen Argue (C.C.F., Assiniboia) as an amendment to the resolution to go into committee of supply, asked that the Government consider a final payment on the 1950-51 crop which would bring the total payment to not less than $2 a bushel.

Winner Pays $185; Daily Double $106

COLUMBUS, O., May 22 (CP)—Dowsabel returned $185.40 for a $2 win ticket today in the second race at Beulah Park race track. But the daily double paid only $106.80.

Thus, a bettor who bought a $2 win ticket on Dowsabel alone collected more than one who paid $2 for a daily double ticket coupling Jayne R., winner of the first race at $7.80, and Dowsabel.

Delmas, Evans Will Defend Titles June 10

The Mid-Island golf championship will be played at the Nanaimo Golf and Country Club on Sunday, June 10.

The 36-hole medal competition is expected to draw entries from all points of the Island and the mainland. Scores submitted will be forwarded to the British Columbia Golf Association for consideration in making up the Willingdon Cup team trials.

Last year's winner of the Oliver Eby Trophy, emblematic of the low gross honors, was Jack Delmas, steady shotmaker from the Nanaimo club. He will be on hand to defend his title.

Stan Evans of Victoria will defend the low net laurels which he won last year.

C.A.H.A. Plans Rules Changes

HALIFAX, May 22 (CP)—Closed committee meetings today discussed far-reaching rule changes as the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association opened its 38th annual meeting here.

Results of the committee meetings—on rules and resolutions—won't be made public until open sessions tomorrow.

It was learned, however, that several changes were adopted aimed at speeding up the game and removing some of the loose play evident during the last few seasons.

The return match will be played in Seattle in August.

Clark Returned

SEATTLE, May 22 (CP).—The Seattle Baseball Club of the Pacific Coast League today returned right-handed Pitcher Mike Clark to Houston of the Texas League. He was drafted last winter.

Clark appeared in 14 games for Seattle, having an earned run average of 5.76 in 25⅓ innings.

Four Jockeys, Two Others Ruled Off Turf

CALGARY, May 22 (CP)—Four jockeys and two other men, charged with improper practices in connection with a race won by Ron Albert at Edmonton, August 21, 1950, were ruled off the turf for a period of ten years at a special meeting of directors of the Prairie Thoroughbred Breeders and Racing Association at Calgary yesterday.

The suspension brought to a close a case in which two Edmonton men and nine jockeys were charged with implication in "fixing" a race at the Edmonton meeting last autumn.

Those handed ten-year suspensions yesterday were jockeys Stanley Connell, Ray Stewart, Eldon Arnold and Clifford Potts, while Jake Superstein and Mickey Phillet of Edmonton were denied the privilege of the course on all tracks under the jurisdiction of the Prairie Thoroughbred Breeders and Racing Association for a similar period.

At the annual meeting of the Association in Winnipeg earlier this year, jockeys James Schmied, E. J. Johnson, Joseph Carroll, John Sundquist and D. D. Kelly were suspended until the conclusion of the year 1952.

DOWLING ELECTED

PORT ALBERNI, May 22—Ralph Dowling was elected president of the Alberni District Retail Merchants' Association at the annual meeting.

Vicepresident is Clarence Cornish, and secretary-treasurer, George Folkard. Executive members appointed were Joe Lynn, Fred Bishop, Ed Homewood, Lorne Gowe, George Harris and Harvey Walters.

Durocher Fined After Rhubarb; Giants Appeal

ST. LOUIS, May 22 (INS)—Giant Manager Leo Durocher has been fined $100 in baseball's latest rhubarb but the Giants appealed the action, and National League President Ford Frick said they can have a hearing on request.

Durocher was penalized for allegedly using foul and abusive language to Umpire Lon Warneke of St. Louis under the stands after Sunday's Cards-Giants contest in St. Louis.

Although Frick said he will grant a hearing to the Giants if they desire one, Warneke remained silent on his part in the rhubarb which occurred at second base.

Warneke said he had heard nothing from Frick.

Polish Net Ace Not Home Yet

ZURICH, Switzerland, May 22 (CP)—Wladislaw Skonecki, Poland's No. 1 tennis player, did not return to Warsaw yesterday with the remainder of the Polish Davis Cup team which defeated the Swiss team 4-1 in Davis Cup play during the week-end.

It was reported that the manager of the Polish team, Jersay Olszowski, asked Skonecki to return to Warsaw to train for the next Davis Cup round, but that Skonecki refused.

Rumors that Skonecki did not intend to return to Poland at all could not be confirmed.

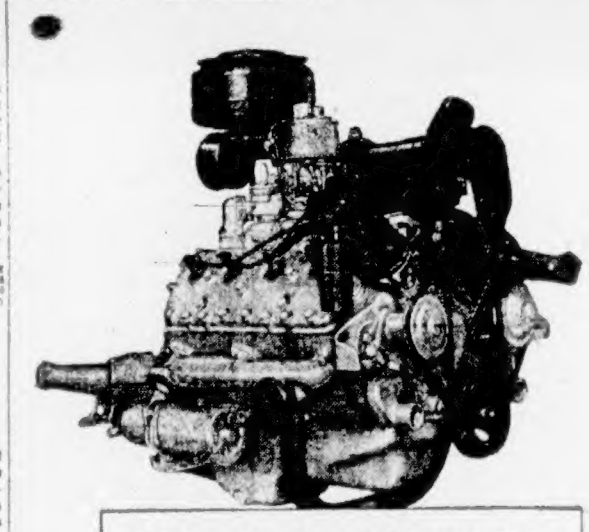
Mighty Beautiful



GRUELLING A: A: A: ECONOMY TEST WON BY MERCURY

In 1950 and AGAIN in 1951, an American Mercury with Touch-O-Matic Overdrive won first honours in Class "C" in the 840 mile Mobilgas Economy Run, conducted by the American Automobile Association. Virtually every kind of weather and road condition, ice-ridden mountain passes . . . sweltering sand-swept roads, put the car to the test. But still, the new 1951 Mercury delivered the best 100-mile gasoline economy of any car in its class.

The '51 Mercury has everything . . . to please the eye . . . to warm the heart

The Mighty, Beautiful 1951 Mercury . . . its profile . . . from the new massive bumper and grille to the flowing swept-back rear fenders reflects eye-pleasing beauties. The "studio-quiet" interior with the modern, long-wearing upholsteries, the distinctive instrument panel and pleasing appointments always arouse pride of ownership.

Mercury provides both restful comfort and heart-warming performance. As you watch the miles go by it's obvious how seldom you say, "Fill her up". Mercury has other values . . . values your budget will appreciate year after year. Try one drive, discover the true meaning of pleasant, economical motoring the Mercury way.

There's PROVEN POWER in the MERCURY V-8 ENGINE

The up-to-the-minute power-packed Mercury 112 Hp. V-8 "Hi-Power Compression" engine is backed by 20 years' experience, of the world's largest manufacturer of V-type engines. This super proven power plant provides flashing performance and exceptional economy. Your Mercury dealer will explain the many other features of the Mercury V-8 engine.

"TOUCH-O-MATIC" OVERDRIVE (optional at extra cost) provides quicker, more restful driving, saves up to 20% on gasoline, and engine speed 34%.

Three Sent to Hospital After Two-Car Collision

Three people were rushed to Rest Haven Hospital at noon yesterday after two cars collided head-on near Butchart's Gardens.

Treated at hospital for facial lacerations and shock and later released were Octave James Deyotte, Box 114 Tod Inlet, and his son, Ronald Deyotte, about 14.

More seriously injured and detained in hospital was Alfred C. Cruchley, 2550 Arbutus Road, Victoria. Hospital officials say his condition is satisfactory.

According to Central Saanich police chief V. J. Lawley, who was at the scene of the accident about ten minutes after it occurred, the steering on the car driven by Deyotte locked while the car was rounding a sharp bend in the highway.

HEAD-ON

The car piled head-on into one driven by Cruchley, which was coming down a hill in a westerly direction, Lawley said. Damage to the two cars was estimated at more than $1,000.

According to S. E. Neff, employee of the nearby Saanich Timber Yard, young Ronald Deyotte walked from the accident and asked him to phone police and get an ambulance.

Neff, George Hawes and other employees of the mill rushed over after phoning police and gave first aid.

Ian Ross, manager of Butchart's Gardens, appeared shortly after the police chief arrived, and Cruchley was loaded into his car.

TO HOSPITAL

With the police chief in the lead, with his siren open, the two cars rushed to the hospital.

One witness lauded Ross for using his car for an emergency ambulance but was highly critical of Central Saanich.

"If the accident had been more serious these people could easily have died while waiting to be taken to hospital," he said. "Central Saanich should get an ambulance immediately."

Licence Suspended for Year

Driver Jailed by Court After Spectacular Crash

John D. Crystal, 878 Esquimalt Road, was sentenced to 14 days in jail and had his driver's license suspended for one year when he pleaded guilty to a drunken driving charge in city police court yesterday.

He was charged following a spectacular car crash at Discovery and Government on Monday night. The car smashed into a telephone pole.

Richard R. Harcus, 741 Daisy, pleaded guilty to charges of driving while his license was suspended and of failing to stop at a stop sign. He was fined a total of $55.

Dr. E. H. Crawford, 2055 Uplands, who appeared for sentence on a careless driving charge following an accident on May 5, was found guilty and fined $35.

Charge of careless driving against Robert Cameron, 1340 Craigflower, was dismissed.

Yong Yet Ming, 555 Cormorant, charged with being in possession of narcotics, was remanded to today for sentence.

Three charges of theft of money from McLennan, McFeeley and Prior Limited against Alexander J. Gordon were remanded to Friday.

High Temperatures May Bring Floods

A flood potential still exists in the Columbia, Kootenay, Okanagan, Similkameen, and particularly the Fraser drainage basins, according to an interim snow survey bulletin issued yesterday by the water rights branch of the Department of Lands and Forests.

"Although most streams draining the low elevation watersheds have already peaked, they are still carrying heavy flows," it was stated in the bulletin. "At the same time the streams from the high elevation watersheds are rising steadily. Should the high average temperatures of the first part of May continue and intensify unabated, the high elevation snow will melt more rapidly and the possibility of flood peaks could materialize on most streams in the province."

RUNOFF

The bulletin explained, however, that sufficient runoff has now occurred on most streams so that the possibilities of them rising to peak flows during the next hot spell were remote.

"This doesn't apply to such an extent to the Fraser River where there has not been as great a runoff during April and May," it was stated.

The high rate of melting established during April has been intensified during the first 15 days of May, the interim report stated. Some local flooding has occurred and there is danger of further local flooding in the Okanagan, Kootenay and Upper Fraser areas.

Mild Weather Helps P.G.E.; Labor Scarce

Favorable spring weather has been aiding construction of the 82-mile Pacific Great Eastern Railway extension from Quesnel to Prince George, it was learned yesterday from Provincial Government officials.

The most serious cause for worry now appears to be the fact that workmen are becoming scarce.

An official said more equipment is on the job than can be adequately manned.

Track has been laid a distance of 10 miles north of Quesnal, the northern terminus of the line, and 14 miles south from Prince George.

Officials expect completion of the extension in about a year.

BRIDGES

Four fair-sized bridges were completed last year and three more are now under construction over Cottonwood River, Ahbau Creek and Canyon Creek. It is expected that foundation for these bridges will be completed by the end of June. Steel for the bridges was ordered and delivered before restrictions came into effect.

Railway construction is heavy work in this section of the Interior, officials explained. Rugged mountain terrain presents continuous obstacles to construction crews.

It is learned the government has advertised for another ferry which could be put into operation between Squamish and Vancouver. This may indicate the government has shelved plans, at least for the present, for the southern extension.

Firemen of Sooke Plan Amateur Night

Sooke volunteer fire department is staging a junior amateur night in Sooke community hall, May 25 at 8 p.m. Talented children from surrounding areas as well as Sooke are expected to compete in a variety program of songs, dances, and instrumental numbers.

Civil Servants' Executive To Meet Cabinet on Wages

Executive of the Provincial Government Employees' Association will meet today with the Provincial Cabinet to discuss the association's request for a 15 per cent across-the-board wage boost.

Nearly 8,000 civil servants are affected.

Officials of the association executive said it was likely that details of any government offer would be presented to an association meeting in Vancouver next Monday night.

The Cabinet met in special session yesterday but no hint was given of any decision reached on the wage request.

Fine Work by Victorian On Display at Museum

By JOHN KYLE, A.R.C.A.

An unusual exhibition is to be seen just now in the Provincial Museum, Legislative Buildings, consisting of birds and animals painted with great freedom, yet dainty and decorative.

They have a decided Japanese influence inasmuch as the birds fly, their wings have movement, they do not hold a rigid pose, they are snapshots.

The artist is Robert H. Savery, a local man of whom we may hear more.

The outstanding pictures of birds are "Scarlet and Gold" and "Blue and Gold," macaws and toucans from South America, "Cockatoos" from Australia, "Mynha Birds" from Burma, "Cranes" from Japan, "Vultures" from Western Sudan and "King Cormorants" from North America.

ANIMAL KINGDOM

Some of these pictures are painted in pure watercolor and others in body color, very well handled.

The members of the animal kingdom are equally varied and include cougars, bears, moose, mountain sheep, goats, leopards, zebras and elephants.

Some of the best paintings in this class are "Polar Bear" right at home in the arctic regions, "At the Waterpool," South Africa, and a striking study of moose in their native haunts.

While most of the colored work would be quite appropriate for reproduction, Mr. Savery has some excellent black and white studies of birds and animals which would make effective illustrations. Some of them are done on scratch board, a type of material specially prepared for such work. In fact all those interested in drawing for commercial reproduction should not miss this display which is at once technical and artistic.

SUGAR SOURCE

Queensland, Australia, has 366,000 acres devoted to sugar cane, producing 910,000 tons of raw sugar in 1948.

Talks May Increase Import Of Sugar From West Indies

Sugar imports by Canada may be increased as the result of the British West Indies trade liberalization conference set to open at Ottawa, Friday.

Victoria visitor Simon Bloomberg, collector-general and chairman of Imports Control at Jamaica, said he hoped this would result from the talks in Ottawa.

Mr. Bloomberg, who will go to Ottawa for the conference, is in Victoria to visit a daughter.

Sugar supplies in Jamaica are plentiful, he said, but added that increasing production in Cuba and other countries might eventually lead to a drop in prices which would adversely affect the economy of the British West Indies.

NOT MUCH RUM

He said very little Jamaica rum was being sent to Canada this year in comparison with previous years.

"Most of the rum you get here is made in Canada," he said. "You import our sugar to make it yourself."

Mr. Bloomberg said Britain is anxious to unite the British West Indies into a federation, but economic problems were making this difficult for the United Kingdom.

And he added, "of course, there are many people who would like the B.W.I. to join up with Canada."

Lip-Smacking Chateau Snacks!

Chateau-and-Bacon . . . Spread split hamburger roll or bread with mellow-mild Chateau (it spreads, slices, melts to perfection). Top with bacon. Broil till the rich cheese goodness has soaked in. Make plenty—the family or guests will go for them! Chateau adds taste-tempting goodness and protein nourishment to any snack or meal!

Chateau Sandwich Snacks . . . Since Chateau is not a sliced cheese you don't have to expose the whole package for a few slices. The remainder stays covered . . . stays fresh! Spread always-fresh Chateau on bread, then cover with any of these delightful variations: slices of hard-cooked egg; sliced boiled ham, chopped crisp bacon or salami . . . but remember always use Chateau to make sandwiches sing!

Plans in Making for Busy Summer In All 13 of Saanich's Play Parks

Saanich municipality's 13 play parks are headed for a big summer's play program.

Spokesman for the playground committees and the Saanich Recreation Council said yesterday members were hard at work readying the park for an expected record influx of youngsters during the summer holidays.

Last year an estimated 1,200 children registered at the various playgrounds with thousands more using them on an unregistered basis.

This year the play traffic will be even more intense, committees prophesied.

VOLUNTEER WORK

Work on the play parks is done on a voluntary basis by residents in the municipality with the Saanich Council dubbing in with an annual grant—this year it is $200—and aiding the committees in other ways.

Council also foots the bill for six weeks' pay cheques of playground supervisors. This year's supervisors are now being chosen by a Saanich Recreational Council committee.

Chairman is Mrs. Frank Blaus.

Play park programs aimed at promoting interest in sport and handicrafts are nearing completion, the reports said.

NEW PARK

At Rudd Park hardworking volunteers have a new baseball diamond nearing the "Play ball" stage. It will be the scene of many games when the inter-park baseball and softball leagues, now being organized, go into high gear.

New playground at the corner of Maynard and Hobbs in the Cadboro Bay district is being equipped with play apparatus. It will be known as Maynard Play Park.

Gordon Head's Majestic Play Park will open for supervised play on July 19 for a five-week season. The district will be canvassed for donations or goods to aid in equipping the grounds.

EQUIPMENT NEEDED

A meeting to which the public is invited will be held May 29 at the home Mrs. R. Penny, 4445 Torquay Drive.

Garden sale was held May 19 to provide funds for the Cedar Hill Play Park program.

The Cedar Hill fund plan was similar to many used by the committees of the various play parks.

Committee members said despite the considerable amount of money raised by these efforts more equipment or donations could always be put to use in the play park program.

Fruit Growers Call Meeting on Market

Small fruit growers who farm in Sooke district have called a meeting to be held at the home of E. P. Jenner, Sasseenos, on Friday, May 25, at 8.30 p.m. to form an association to enable them to market their fruit.

All district fruit farmers are invited to attend.

Genge Succeeds Paulin As Harbor Group Head

—MARINE COLUMN—

James Genge was elected chairman of the Chamber of Commerce harbor development group at an annual meeting yesterday.

He succeeds George Paulin, who for the forthcoming year will serve as vice-chairman. Pressure of business didn't allow Mr. Paulin to continue as chairman. It was explained after he had been nominated for the post.

At the meeting, at which T. Denny presided, members of the group learned that:

NEW INSPECTOR

Victoria now has a second steamship inspector, working as an assistant to steamship inspector A. Stephens.

Survey work in connection with dredging the upper Inner Harbor between Point Ellice bridge and the C.N.R. trestle has been completed and actual dredging awaits arrival here of equipment now on the Mainland coast.

The city is giving serious consideration to a request for a system of warning lights to be placed on either side of Johnson Street bridge. These lights would let approaching vessels know that their signals to have the spans lifted had been heard by the bridge operator.

A considerable area at Ogden Point docks is to be suitably surfaced for lumber storage. Already a large area has been prepared for such use. The new work will be done this year, it was stated.

ANSWER SOON

The city's harbor development committee is expected to answer soon a request made some time ago that the Inner Harbor be cleaned up and freed of debris.

Capt. Ronald Newell, city harbor master, will assume responsibility for caring for four mooring buoys located in the Inner Harbor.

E. W. Arnott, president of the chamber, paid tribute to the harbor development group for its work over the past year, asserting its activities had been "in the interest of not only the harbor itself, but the city as a whole." He moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Paulin.

NEW WAGE OFFER

A new two-year wage and hours offer is being studied by 800 seamen aboard ships of three B.C. coastal steamship companies, with their decision expected in about one week.

Canadian National, Canadian Pacific and Union Steamship Lines offered the Seafarers' International Union a proposal of $13.87 monthly wage increase and an 11-cent hourly boost in overtime rates, both retroactive to March 1.

Also offered were a 40-hour week from January 1, 1952, and a cost-of-living clause.

The proposal would be for two years, from March 1, 1951.

The seamen originally asked a $30 monthly pay boost and a 40-hour week.

The new companies' offer followed announcement by the union that the seamen had voted by a large majority in favor of a strike.

* * *

SEAMEN NEEDED

A continuing lack of skilled seamen is evident in Victoria, Don O'Reilly, local agent for the Seafarers' International Union (A.F.L.-T.L.C.), reported yesterday.

He said the union could place at least five men per week aboard ships in engine room and deckhand classifications.

Some seamen had accepted shore jobs because of higher pay, O'Reilly said, while others had left coast work for deepsea ships and lake freighters where pay and working conditions are said to be better.

The S.I.U. agent noted that applicants for jobs are still being screened for union affiliation.

He said there was no fear of smaller ships having to reactivate operations. Some sailed with a small crew, he said, and found replacements at Vancouver.

O'Reilly also disclosed that the S.I.U. is attempting to sign a majority of crew members aboard Federal Government ships operating from Victoria.

Some have been signed on the lighthouse tender Estevan, he said, while others are aboard the weathership St. Catharines and federal ships operating out of Vancouver.

He said the union did not yet have sufficient strength aboard the ships to act as bargaining agent.

* * *

ATTEND HEARING

Members of the United Fishermen and Allied Union appeared for cross-examination before the Royal Commission inquiry into the Workmen's Compensation Act in the Court House yesterday.

Evidence was mainly on the operating agreements covering ships operating for halibut, herring and salmon seasons.

Evidence is to be given later in the hearings by Dr. G. F. Strong, heart specialist, in a brief prepared by the B.C. Salmon Canners.

Hearings are being conducted before Chief Justice Gordon McG. Sloan.

WIDE OPEN SPACES

When O. H. Evans went for a stroll he used to have to walk around in small circles.

That was on tiny Sisters Island, between Qualicum and Texada Island, where he served as lighthouse keeper for a year and a half. Now he has been transferred to Trial Island Lighthouse off Oak Bay, and the few acres of that island to him appear as "a wide open range."

Sisters Island measured about 400 by 100 feet.

He is very happy with the new posting. Besides the additional space, he has a city telephone at the station.

Flown to Vancouver

Months in Hospital Behind City Sailor

Don't talk about hospitals to Able Seaman Harry Ackerman.

The young sailor was aboard the destroyer Athabaskan when she left here last July 5 for service in Korean waters, but much of his time overseas was spent in hospitals in Japan.

He was sent in from the ship arrived here last Thursday.

Yesterday was his homecoming day. He was flown from Tokyo to Vancouver, reaching the Mainland city yesterday morning and there greeted by his wife, Jean, and three-year-old daughter Seynthia.

HOME

The happy family returned to Victoria yesterday aboard the afternoon steamer from Vancouver, and headed directly for their home at 480 Joffre Street.

AB. Ackerman left his ship in Japan early last February, suffering with an acute kidney ailment. He spent a month in a hospital just outside Yokohama, then rejoined his ship for another of its Korean west coast patrols. Completion of the patrol saw him back in hospital again—this time at an Australian centre in Kure. Later he was transferred to the Ebisu Hospital in the centre of Tokyo. He remained there until last Monday.

You can't keep a good man down. He is going to rejoin his ship shortly.

C.C.F. Provincial Chief Raps Wismer, Coalition

The Coalition Government and Attorney-General Gordon S. Wismer were pounced on verbally last night in an address by C.C.F. Leader Harold Winch.

Mr. Winch said he presumed "that neither party has the courage or desire to hold a joint convention," as he noted the recent conclusion of the 18th annual C.C.F. convention.

He claimed that when Liberal and Conservative parties do hold conventions, the meetings are "packed" because defeated candidates and elected members as well as elected delegates have an official status.

Attorney-General Wismer was criticized on three points. The C.C.F. leader said it was "most strange" to hear from a barn-storming cabinet minister that amendments to the I.C.A. Act are needed and will be introduced. He said the government had ample opportunity to bring in amendments to labor legislation during the session.

"It is apparent that the Coalitionists are completely shameless in their political hypocrisy," Mr. Winch said.

Mr. Wismer also was termed "one of the greatest political acrobats in history" for statements on the indirect sales tax.

Recently the attorney-general criticized the indirect tax principle, the speaker said, yet neither he nor any other cabinet minister opposed the tax in principle when it was discussed in the legislature.

The C.C.F. leader spoke on provincial affairs over a provincial radio network.

Six M.L.A.'s of Vancouver who turned down an invitation to attend a joint labor group meeting and explain their stands on hospital insurance, were accused of using "political camouflage" in their refusal.

CONFUSING ISSUE

Mr. Winch said they attempted to confuse the issue and hide their own fear of facing the electorate by giving as a reason that the C.C.L. is on record as supporting the C.C.F.

Mr. Winch also denied Coalition claims that he would sign a minority report of a legislative committee inquiring into the Hospital Insurance Act. This would be done, he said, "only if the committee, composed of seven Coalitionists and myself, did not do a good job."

Sooke Athletes To Hold Dance

Sooke athletic association has arranged an old-time dance to be held in Sooke community hall, Saturday, May 26 at 9 p.m. Music will be played by the All-Sooke Five orchestra and refreshments are to be served by the club assisted by members of the Sooke ball teams.

Sooke senior B men's softball team emerged victorious over a Langford team at Sooke ballfield May 20 with a score of 17-9. Art Clark and Ben Johnson pitched for Sooke while Warren Schneider was hurler for the visitors.

Monday night at Sooke ballfield Elders junior boys defeated a Craigflowers team 5 to 4.

Seven Firms Bid on Work

Evidence of keen bidding was shown in tenders opened yesterday by Deputy Minister of Public Works Evan Jones for reconstruction of seven miles of the Trans-Canada Highway from Golden to Yoho National Park at the Alberta border.

The seven tenders submitted were as follows:

Dawson Wade Co. Ltd., $628,724; W. C. Arnott Co. Ltd., $689,854; Standard Graveling & Surfacing of Canada Ltd., Calgary, $761,573; Campbell Bennett Ltd., $739,696; Emil Anderson Construction Co. Ltd., $685,196; Highway Construction Co. Ltd., $1,056,771; General Construction Co. Ltd., $711,719.

Woman May Assume Light Keeper's Post

There were indications yesterday that a woman may man the lonely Egg Island lighthouse in Queen Charlotte Sound following the death of the former keeper.

It was learned yesterday from R.C.M.P. officials that Mrs. Elizabeth Rife, 35, estranged wife of a Victoria man, left Ocean Falls yesterday on a Department of Transport ship and her 7-year-old son Stanley, bound for the lighthouse.

Mrs. Rife had attended the inquest into the death of Lawrence Dupuis, 37, lighthouse keeper with whom Mrs. Rife is reported to have lived on Egg Island for about two years. A coroner's jury found that Dupuis killed himself.

Department of Transport officials in Victoria were unable to confirm that Mrs. Rife was to be hired as keeper of the Egg Island lighthouse because that part of the coast is under jurisdiction of the department's Prince Rupert division.

Mrs. Rife said she believed Dupuis shot himself because he believed she and her husband had been re-united. She found Dupuis shot to death on her return to the island late last week from a visit to Victoria.

Old fashioned charm...old fashioned goodness

Caramel CREAM

Dust off granny's heirloom bowl, and treat the family to this fancy dessert full of old time caramel goodness. Just make up a package of Shirriff's golden Caramel Bud Dessert. (If company's coming, make two.) With Shirriff's Bud Desserts, you get all the flavour you pay for, because the rich, fragrant caramel flavour is sealed in the Bud until you are ready to make your dessert. Garnish with a ruffle of sweetened whipped cream, top with a cherry.
